VOL. 39

VICTORIA, B. C., WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1911

NO. 86

WILL CONTROL THE EMPLOYMENT AGENT

COUNCIL CONSIDERS A REGULATING BY-LAW

Licenses Will Be Necessary—
Fee to Be Returned if No Work Found

The objectionable practices of certain employment agencies will be regulated in Victoria by an intelligence office bylaw, which received its first reading last evening at the city council meeting.

From time to time cases have been reported where it appears employment agents have been in league with the foremen of railway and street construction gangs, and after a job has been found the men are discharged to make way for others, the agencies and the foremen sharing the spoil. Other devious ways of swindling the unemployed have been devised in various western cities, and it is to put a check on these schemes that the council has taken action.

The bylaw, as drafted, provides for a registration fee of $1, which must be returned on demand if employment is not found within 14 days, and such employment agencies must pay $100 a year in half-yearly payments in order to operate. In case of a conviction by the court the city treasurer is to return the balance of the licence fee, and further operations of the company shall be suspended.

A conviction under the Aliea Labor Act, or any statute of Canada, will invalidate the licence, and the council fixed a penalty of $20 for offences under this bylaw. It appears that the council has no power over shipping, and therefore no protection for the merchantman can be inserted, as this question is entirely one for control under the Merchant Shipping Act.

Alderman Ross wanted the bylaw made so as to apply to sailors, but was informed that the council was powerless in such a matter.

PANIC ON CAR.

Passengers Jump in Fright at Sight of a Flame.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 11.—A blowout of the hood switch in College street car yesterday afternoon, which shot a flame back nearly the whole length of the car, resulted in such confusion among the passengers that seven people were badly injured and shaken up. The injuries were sustained from jumping from the car through fright. Among the more seriously injured was Mrs. Stevens of Vancouver, who had her face and head cut. She had intended to return home to Vancouver in a few days, but will be obliged to remain some time longer.

ELECTION FIGURES.

Lethbridge, Alta., Oct. 11.—The official count of the returning officer of Medicine Hat constituency shows the majority of W. A. Buchanan, Liberal, over C. A. Magrath, Conservative, to be 1,455. Magrath's majority in 1908 was 352.

Windsor, Ont., Oct. 11.—Dr. Fred Parke, Conservative candidate in St. James, has applied for a recount, claiming that many irregularities occurred. A. H. Clarke, Liberal, has 221 majority for re-election.

Battleford, Sask., Oct. 11.—The final returns in Battleford are: Champagne, 5,409; Howell, 3,517.

CONSERVATIVES SHY OF THE NOMINATION

Several Decline to Run in Alberta Legislature by Election—Other Candidates

Lethbridge, Oct. 10.—John Fross, a prominent rancher and farmer of Gillingham, was nominated at the Liberal convention held at Pincher creek to contest the seat in the legislature made vacant by the resignation of Dr. Warrack, now M. P. for Macleod. A. C. Kemmis, Pincher Creek, is the Conservative candidate.

The Conservatives of Calgary last night unanimously nominated N. A. Tweedie for the vacancy in the legislature caused by the resignation of R. B. Bell for the Commons.

The Conservatives of Gleichen selected Harold W. Riley as their candidate for the vacancy left by the death of the late A. J. McArthur. The nomination was first offered to M. S. McCarthy, but he sent a wire declining it. Then it was offered to A. A. McMillan, defeated candidate in the Commons for Red Deer, but he also declined. Next it was offered to J. T. McDonald, Calgary, but he would not run. James Shoudice and H. W. Riley were finally nominated. Riley won out by four votes. He is a brother of E. H. Riley, who once represented the riding as an independent.

CHINESE-REBELS TAKE WU CHANG

TROOPS MUTINY AND UPRISING FOLLOWS

Many Foreigners in the City
but They Are Being Protected by Gunboats

Hankow, Oct. 11.—The revolutionaries have won a notable victory, gaining possession of the city of Wu Chang after a battle with the loyal troops that began yesterday and continued well into last night. The foreign residents had not been molested.

The revolutionary committee issued a proclamation exhorting its followers not to harm the citizens of other countries. The fact that the wishes of the committee have been respected thus far, while reassuring to other nations, is in itself a sign for the government at Peking, as it indicates the rebellious movement is now more thoroughly organized. Earlier outbreaks have assumed the character of rioting in which the mobs were soon out of the control of intelligent leadership, thus making their defeat, by the better directed government troops, comparatively easy.

The officials fear a spread of disaffection among the troops in this city, and every effort is being made to ward off this danger. Five gunboats are now in the river in readiness to protect Hankow should the necessity arise. The foreign consuls have also asked their governments that warships be sent to the scene. American and Japanese cruisers are expected here to-night, while several gunboats are hastening hither.

Merchant vessels in the river are keeping steam up and women and children will board them to-night.

Volunteers will guard the foreign quarter until the safety of all foreigners is assured. The revolutionaries, defeated in Sze Chuen province, where they for some time besieged the capital, Chang Tu, transferred their chief activities to Hupé province, intending to make it the base for operations in Sze Chuen.

According to officials, an uprising in Wu Chang was planned for Monday night. The plot was discovered and 62 arrests were made. Desiring to terrorize the revolutionaries, four of the prisoners were beheaded in the street before the viceroy's yamen yesterday.

Immediately a portion of the government artillery forces within the city maintained and the uprising was precipitated.

The disaffection spread to other forces, and the revolutionaries started firing the city and attacking troops that refused to join them. The latter were overcome.

The tactical appeal to the foreign consuls to instruct their warships to guard the harbor limits and head off rebel reinforcements from the river. The viceroy sent a message to Peking urgently requesting the immediate dispatch of warships from Tien Tsin. He then found refuge on a private yacht. His headquarters and those of the provincial treasurer were burned.

The military commander was killed by a dynamite bomb and the viceroy himself escaped only by hasty flight.

Among the foreigners known to have been in Wu Chang yesterday are 25 American missionaries.

MOTHER'S LONG SEARCH.

Finds Her Son After Thirty-five Years' Absence.

Stoneham, Mass., Oct. 11.—After a country-wide search lasting 35 years Mrs. Nellie Freeman, 89 years old, has at last succeeded in her quest for her son, Jos. Correy, now a prosperous citizen of Boise, Idaho.

Early to-day she left to join him there. Through correspondence with friends in the West, Mrs. Freeman learned that John E. Rogers, principal of the Longfellow school in Boise had been making a search for his mother, who was taken away from him when he was four years old. Correspondence followed, proving that Rogers was undoubtedly the missing son of Mrs. Freeman, born when she was Mrs. Joseph E. Correy and lived in Missouri. In 1876 she was taken ill and sent to a hospital for a long convalescence. When she recovered, her son had disappeared.

MOROCCAN AGREEMENT.

Berlin, Oct. 11.—It is officially stated that the first part of the Franco-German negotiations, concerning the status of Morocco, had been finished and the agreement was ready to be "initiated" by both parties as a sign of acceptance. The formal signing will be deferred until the second part of the arrangement regarding the compensation to Germany in French Congo has been completed.

LARIVIERE FOR SENATE.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 11.—It is stated this morning as a strong probability that the Manitoba senatorship made vacant through the death of Senator Chevier will go to Hon. Alphonse A. C. Lariviere, who was for years Conservative member for Provencher. Lariviere, however, is not now a resident of Manitoba, having moved to Montreal.

CHRISTIAN PROTEST AGAINST WORLD WAR

Ecumenical Conference Adopts Resolution Favoring Arbitration—Mission of Peace

Toronto, Oct. 11.—At the Ecumenical conference yesterday the resolution favoring international arbitration was formally moved by Bishop Hendrix, of St. Louis. In the course of his remarks he referred to the British judiciary as the most consummate flower of the world's civilization (cheers). He thought it a grand thing that from sea to sea on this side two nations lived in peace and not a menacing gun pointed toward each other. Cheers.

Rev. Henry Haigh, D. D., seconded the resolution. He felt that the resolution overlooked a very important matter in not mentioning the great influence of the Anglican Church of the old country, supporting the movement along with the free church council. Reference to this was forthwith adopted in the resolution.

Sir Robert Perks supported the resolution in a strong speech, as representing the commercial world. He thought this was a charter for our progress. The working people of Germany had withdrawn their money from the banks recently and made a war impossible. He hoped that the Christian Church would protest against darkening the skies with machines for purposes of war.

Rev. Geo. Elliott, D. D., Michigan, said there could not be any more a righteous war.

LL-Gov. Wallace of California made a plea for trusting the people. Do away with caucuses and primaries and give the people a chance.

Bishop Hess was to the front as usual and caused merriment describing his belief in free trade. He had been a Democrat but could not vote for free silver, which was an attempt to revive the multiplication table and abolish the law of gravitation. So between free silver, which was lunacy, and protection, which was highway robbery, he had taken to the woods.

Rev. Enoch Salt, London, claimed that the English and German people were one and had no idea of war.

The evening session, presided over by N. W. Helme, M. P., England, discussed "The Church and the Message." Excellent addresses were delivered but the interest centred in Rev. J. B. Rattenbury, the London mission preacher, who is successor of Hugh Price Hughes and preaches to the largest Methodist congregation in the world.

Mr. Rattenbury is but a young man, but his remarkable powers as a speaker in holding and reaching men give him a commanding influence. His subject was "Modern Evangelistic Methods." The methods for to-day needed to be different from those of our fathers, he claimed, as theirs were by the methods of Elijah the Tishbite. Some former descriptions of hell, for example, were more like the nightmare of mania than anything else. The main thing was to have the spirit to bring men to Christ and Christ to men.

The new evangelism, to understand human nature, must be formative and keep children from being prodigals.

BY-ELECTIONS SET FOR OCTOBER 25

New Parliament Will Probably
Meet on November 15—
Treasury Board Named

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 11.—The second cabinet council of the new government was held this morning, when Wednesday, October 25, was decided on as the day on which the new ministers will be nominated for the constituencies which they represent or are to represent in parliament. The polling if any, will take place on November 1. Nothing is given out as yet as to what seats the four ministers without any are to get.

The new parliament will probably be called for the despatch of business on November 25. This is a Wednesday, and the custom is for a new parliament to be called together on a Wednesday. The session will be short, probably running only a few days over a month, and will be devoted to the passing of supply. After the expiration of thirty days the members will be entitled to their full indemnity.

At this morning's sitting of the cabinet the new treasury board of the economic policy of the government and gives assurance that the fiscal commercial policy of the government will be developed upon Imperial lines. In Hon. G. E. Foster as Minister of Trade and Commerce we have the guarantee that the question of imperial preference will be kept well to the front and that nothing will be left undone to strengthen the Imperial commercial relations. The presence of F. D. Monk in the Conservative cabinet need cause no surprise. Though he has been conspicuous as one of the Nationalist leaders and an ally of Bourassa, Monk is by instinct and in tradition a member of the Conservative party, and may be counted on to use a moderating influence with the extreme section of the Nationalists. That the naval and military policy will be Imperial is guaranteed by the appointment of Hon. J. D. Hazen as Minister of Marine, and of Col. Hughes as Minister of Militia, both of whose attachment to Imperial ideals is beyond dispute.

BRITISH TORY PRESS ON BORDEN CABINET

Show Some Lack of Knowledge of Actual Facts and Conditions Out Here

London, Oct. 11.—Among British press comment on the new Canadian cabinet the Times says: "The Conservative premier is a man well fitted to wield the great political force now placed at his disposal. He is a serious thinker and student, a man of wide culture and possesses extensive and accurate knowledge. W. T. White's wide knowledge of business conditions eminently qualify him for the position of Minister of Finance. The inclusion in the cabinet of F. D. Monk, who when in opposition had some differences of opinion with his leader, may be taken as a happy evidence of the closing of the breach in the Conservative ranks. Hon. Frank Cochrane has a record of successful work in an analogous position in the Ontario cabinet. In short, the cabinet impresses one as being a very efficient working combination, composed of men well and favorably known for strength of character and sound public work."

The Daily Mail says: "We congratulate Mr. Borden on the judicial selection for his cabinet of names which will inspire confidence throughout the Empire. The choice of W. T. White as Minister of Finance is an indication of the economic policy of the government and gives assurance that the fiscal commercial policy of the government will be developed upon Imperial lines. In Hon. G. E. Foster as Minister of Trade and Commerce we have the guarantee that the question of imperial preference will be kept well to the front and that nothing will be left undone to strengthen the Imperial commercial relations. Hughes as Minister of Militia, both of whose attachment to Imperial ideals is beyond dispute."

LOVER'S INSANE DEED.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 11.—After making an ineffectual attempt to kill Mrs. H. M. Hall, the mother of the girl he loved, A. Clifford Vanorder, 25 years old, a linotype operator, is dead here to-day. According to the police, Vanorder was told by the girl's parent that he must cease his attentions to her. He called at the home and when Mrs. Hall answered the bell he shot her, the bullet grazing her side near the heart. He then shot himself, dying almost instantly. Vanorder came here recently from New York.

OFF FOR AUSTRALIA.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 11.—Irving H. Wheatcroft, owner of the St. James' stud farm here, has shipped all his stable to Australia, where he proposes to start a large breeding establishment near Melbourne. There were 159 horses valued at $200,000 in the shipment. Mr. Wheatcroft, who accompanied the horses, said the enforcement of the betting laws forced him to leave the country.

EMBASSY CHANGES.

Berlin, Oct. 11.—It is reported that the Japanese ambassador to German, Viscount Chinda, will be transferred in February to Washington to succeed Viscount Uchida, who has returned to Tokyo to become minister of foreign affairs. Engiro Yamasa, counsellor of the Japanese embassy at London, will, it is said, replace Chinda here.

M'NAMARA TRIAL BEGINS AT LAST

YOUNGER BROTHER IS FIRST TO FACE JURY

Defence Desired the Cases Separated—Task of Securing a Jury

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 11.—The McNamara case was called at 10.46 a.m. Judge Bordwell's first action being, as anticipated, the denying of the motion by counsel for the defence for a change of judge, declaring that he was not prejudiced in the case.

Clarence S. Darrow, chief counsel for the defence, announced that he wished to sever the cases and immediately District Attorney John D. Fredericks chose James B. McNamara for trial.

The prisoner is 29 years old and unmarried. He is charged with causing the death of nineteen of the twenty-one men who were killed in the explosion and fire which wrecked the Times building on October 1, 1910. Not only did Mr. Fredericks elect to try James rather than his brother John, secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, but he decided to go to trial on the indictment charging the prisoner with the death of Charles J. Haggerty, a machinist, whose body was found closest to the spot at which the explosion is alleged to have occurred.

The site of the Times building lies within the shadow of the Hall of Records, in which the trial is being held, and the whistles of engines working on the foundations of the new Times building sounded from time to time through the open windows of the court room.

Counsel for the defence gathered about the prisoner, headed by Attorney Clarence S. Darrow of Chicago, associated with him being Jos. E. Scott, Leopold Davis and Job Hartigan, all of this city.

District Attorney John D. Fredericks handled the prosecution, aided by the assistants regularly employed in his office.

A delay, seemingly interminable to the eager spectators occurred at the opening of the court, while a procession of gentlemen explained to Judge Bordwell why they should not be asked to serve. This was the end of a preliminary hearing, in which the judge rapidly weeded out over half the first venire of 125 men, before the trial formally began. The McNamaras were brought into court together and remained until James B. McNamara was selected for trial, when John J. was returned to his cell. This afternoon the empanelling of the jury began.

Dublin, Oct. 11.—The Evening Irish Times says: "Combined with dignity and simplicity the Duke of Connaught's character makes him the right man for Canada at this critical moment of her career. When in Dublin he captured without effort and still keeps our affection and esteem. We are confident the Irish verdict will be endorsed on the larger stage of the Empire's greatest Dominion."

GIFT TO EDISON.

New York, N. Y., Oct. 11.—A solid cube of copper, twelve inches high, is on exhibition at the electrical exposition here to-day, a gift from the representatives in the copper industry in all parts of the United States to Thomas A. Edison. The gift is the result of a humorous remark of the inventor just before his vacation. He said that since his inventions had done so much for the copper trade, he thought the magnates ought to present him with a good big lump of the metal.

RAIL TO ROCKIES END OF THIS YEAR

PRESIDENT HAYS TELLS G. T. P. SHAREHOLDERS

Chain of Splendid Hotels, Contract for First of Which Has Been L.

Montreal, Oct. 11.—The adjourned annual meeting of the shareholders of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company was held here yesterday with C. M. Hays, president, in the chair. The president stated that during the year track-laying on the main line of the western division had been extended from Wolf Creek to Fitzhugh, west of the Athabasca river in the Rocky Mountains, which will be the divisional point for that section, and that construction work is under full headway, with night and day forces, to Tete Jaune Cache, on the Fraser River, beyond the Yellowhead Pass, on the western slope of the Rocky Mountains. It is expected that track-laying will reach this point, which is 1,094 miles west of Winnipeg, before the close of the year.

"For the purpose of establishing suitable hotel accommodation throughout the country which will be traversed by your company's lines," continued the president, "it is proposed to construct a chain of first class modern hotels, and with this object in view, a contract has been let for the construction of a large hotel in the city of Winnipeg at a cost of $1,200,000. Good progress has been made on construction work on the Ontario division, and the present condition of that work shows a total of 1,223.45 miles of mainline track and 136.50 miles of sidetrack laid, and the remaining portions of the section are all under contract. With the construction therefore approximately 5,123 miles, undertaken in the first instance, there has been laid at the present time practically 3,900 miles of main line track."

Hugh A. Allan, who was a member of the first board of directors, having taken up his residence abroad, is unable to continue as an active member of the board. The names of the following directors are proposed for re-election: Alfred W. Smithers, Sir Henry Mather Jackson, George Van Chauvin, Col. Frederick Firebrace, Charles M. Hays, E. J. Chamberlain, Wm. Wainwright, E. H. Fitzhugh, W. H. Biggar, E. B. Greenshield, Hon. R. Dandurand, Hon. George A. Cox, E. B. Wood and J. R. Booth.

West of the Mountains. Vancouver, Oct. 11.—Clearing of right-of-way on the uncompleted gap of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway from Tete Jaune Cache, westward to Aldermere in Bulkley Valley, was started a few weeks ago by the contractors, Foley, Welch & Stewart. Operations thus far are restricted to the route along the south fork of the Fraser river between the Cache and Fort George.

J. W. Stewart, managing director of the firm, and B. B. Kellier, chief engineer of the railway, are now making a trip from Yellowhead Pass to Prince Rupert. It is likely that sub-contractors covering the uncompleted gap of 415 miles will be awarded shortly after Mr. Stewart returns to Vancouver.

COLIN CAMPBELL IN BOB ROGERS' SHOES

Manitoba Cabinet Shuffle—Vacancy Goes to George
Lawrence, of Killarney

Winnipeg, Oct. 11.—The expected shuffle in the Manitoba provincial cabinet has materialized. Speculation has been rife as to who would step in to fill the gap in the ministerial ranks occasioned by the elevation of Hon. Robt. Rogers, Minister of Public Works, to the Dominion cabinet.

To-day it was announced that the new dignitary was Geo. Lawrence, M.P.P. for Killarney. Mr. Lawrence, however, did not step into that particular pair of shoes left untenanted by Mr. Rogers, but was appointed Minister of Agriculture instead of Premier Robt. Rogers, who heretofore held that office in addition to his premiership.

On giving up the office of Minister of Agriculture Premier Robt. takes the post of Provincial Secretary, replacing Hon. James Howden, who in turn takes up the mantle of Attorney-General. Colin H. Campbell, who is now Hon. Robert Rogers' direct successor as Minister of Public Works.

The only two members of the provincial government unaffected by the latest move of the provincial cabinet are Hon. G. R. Gault and Hon. Hugh Armstrong, the former still remaining Minister of Education and the latter Provincial Treasurer as heretofore.

The new minister arrived in the city yesterday afternoon, proceeding to Government House and being sworn in.

STREET REGULATIONS UNDER DISCUSSION

Traffic Obstruction by Standing Automobiles—Balconies in Moving Picture Shows

The difficult question of regulating street traffic occupied the city council for a long time last evening, the details of regulations to be embodied in the streets by-law provoking much debate. The principal difficulty which occupied the aldermen was the definition of what represented a fair time in which to permit owners of automobiles to leave their cars on the street, generally unattended, and immovable as a rule owing to the customary precaution to remove the spark plug, while transacting business. Obstruction of the street in the vicinity of the Pemberton and Snyward blocks were quoted as instances of the need for greater restriction, while some members of the council were for leaving the definition of what constituted an obstruction to the police, to determine in accordance with circumstances.

Yet another alternative was suggested, that the council define an area comprising the principal business streets in which no automobiles should be left unattended, but should be required to be left in the nearest side street, the obvious objection being that the owners of property on these streets would resent this action, and that cars there would prove just as much an obstruction. The legal members of the council, Aldermen Langley and Morrey, with City Solicitor McDiarmid will further consider the question of what constitutes an obstruction before reporting back an amendment to the clause dealing with this matter.

The aldermen also found themselves unable to agree to make the rule of the road the same as in eastern Canada and the United States, recognizing the endless confusion which would result from a change at this late date, although the mayor thought it would be advantageous in dealing with traffic.

The streets which the city solicitor proposed to debar for moters were Government from Cormorant to Belleville, Douglas between Pandora avenue and Fort street, Yates between Langley and Douglas, and Fort street between Government and Douglas street. It was suggested in several quarters that a time limit of five minutes was too brief, and even 15 minutes might be too short under certain circumstances for cars to be left on the streets.

The by-law defines the rule of the road as follows: Keep to the right on the sidewalk when meeting and pass on the left when overtaking, and on the roadway keep to the left on passing and overtake on the right.

Among the regulations is one setting forth that after June, 1912, no sign may be lower than eight feet above the sidewalk in any part of the city. The council decided to adopt Fire Chief Davis's recommendation that the by-law regulating places of amusement should be amended to enforce the rule that staircases leading from balconies of the moving picture theatres should be compelled to open straight on to the street, and not into lobbies where the flow of people in case of a panic would cause further congestion. Otherwise the chief recommended that the balconies should be closed to the public.

The chief, in an explanation to the council, pointed out that the booths are lined with asbestos packing, and provided with automatic shutters, and although this reduces the danger to a minimum, yet in case of a panic without the precautions he recommends the result might be serious.

A letter was read from D. Gillespie, secretary-treasurer of the Pacific Coast Construction Company, in connection with the complaint of the council that the company was continuing to work on Sundays on the Dallas road sea wall, and stating that the company was making a material improvement in the work, and that the excavation was made necessary constant effort or else about every six hours the results would be lost by silting up, and therefore while the company did not wish to offend any religious body, they must decline to cease work.

Alderman Gleason, who has strongly pressed the matter in the council, urged that the council should appeal to the Lord's Day act, but Alderman Langley took the view that no steps should be taken to cause interruption of an urgent work. Ultimately the council decided to ask officials of the company to meet the council, and explain their attitude on the matter.

SCHOOL BOARD ASKS FOR FURTHER FUNDS

City Solicitor Explains Doubtful Legality of Suggested Course—$15,000 Required

At a meeting of the city council last evening a long discussion took place on an application from the school board for the sum of $15,000 for completion of work on the Bank street and Victoria West schools, and asking that in the event of the council not approving the expenditure, a by-law should be submitted to the ratepayers.

Of the sum voted under the last school by-law only about $7,400 remains available to the credit of the board. The city solicitor, F. A. McDiarmid, said he considered under the school act the board must make up its estimate of ordinary and extraordinary expenditure by Feb. 1, and the question they had to decide was whether after that date the board could come to the council, and ask for further funds for extraordinary expenditure. He doubted whether the council could supply the funds legally or put the suggested by-law when next placing the by-law before the people.

Alderman H. M. Fullerton said the money for school purposes must be found, and there seemed to be plenty for a civic centre and for the Ross Bay sea wall, so he favored a reference to the finance committee to see if they could not devise a means to raise the money.

Alderman Ross seconded, saying the council ought to stand by the board even if they were in the wrong. Alderman Langley pointed out that the calls of the board were very heavy, and the citizens had not begrudged large sums of money, in fact the board was having much more than their share of the rate. He suggested a conference with the board to try and find a way of raising the necessary funds.

The mayor pointed out it was the duty of the council to keep some check on the expenditure of the board, as it was a common thing for the latter to exceed their estimates, by building schools which cost more than the estimated outlay, and then they had to ask for further sums to complete.

It was decided to inform the board of the city solicitor's opinion, refuse to provide the money asked from general revenue and offer to submit the by-law, the responsibility for its legality to rest with the school board.

IMPRESSIONS OF 'FRISCO CONVENTION

Great Sunday School Festival Recounted by Speakers in Metropolitan Methodist

A number of people gathered in the hall-room of the Metropolitan Methodist church on Pandora and Quadra streets last night, to listen to an inspirational report of the San Francisco convention, given by H. J. Knott, of the adult department of the Sunday school, J. Weston, general superintendent of First Presbyterian Sunday school, and the Rev. J. W. Williamson, secretary of the Provincial Sunday schools. Mr. Shakespeare was to have addressed the audience, but owing to a bad cold was not in attendance.

W. E. Staneland, chairman of the meeting, opened it by the singing of hymn 319, after which he introduced to the audience the well known adult superintendent, H. J. Knott, who gave an interesting talk of his ideas and those he obtained in his attendance at the San Francisco convention in regard to the adult department reform work and general betterment. He gave an interesting account of the inspiring religious parade of 7,000 men from all over the North American continent who paraded through the streets of San Francisco, four and eight deep, and of how they came to four huge drays loaded down with bibles which each man helped himself to, continuing on his way, and of the distinctive songs and yells sung and shouted by each one of the forty-four contingents taking part.

Mr. Knott ended his pleasing address by impressing on his listeners the fact that there was to be no limit to things in regard to their work, which seemed to have just begun to start out. Mr. Staneland then called upon John Moston, who gave an interesting summary of the ideas he grasped of Elementary Work at the convention. He read some interesting items from the more noted national workers and he spoke feelingly of how he was inspired by the parade of some 500 foreigners in the Frisco-convention.

Rev. J. W. Williamson opened his address with a pleasing little talk of really how much work he had to do and just where he must be in those twelve short months of each year.

Rev. Williamson has a pleasing address, obtained through his long career of speaking, and his absolute love of and confidence in his work. His impressions of the convention were cleverly told. That the convention shook wicked San Francisco—San Francisco with no church large enough to hold over 1,000 persons, a city of lust and pleasure—shook it as it has not been shaken since the earthquake, was Rev. J. W. Williamson's summary of the big affair.

SCIENTIFIC COOKING.

Lady Will Tour Island Giving Lectures and Demonstrations.

Cooking is one of the few everyday commonplaces that has developed into a science and few elements of life are given more careful attention at the present time. British Columbia is demonstrating its position in the scientific sphere (in this connection) by furthering its development as much as possible. With this end in view the provincial department of Agriculture has engaged the services of Miss Bessie Livingstone, of Vancouver, a graduate of the Boston School of Domestic Science and the New York School of Cookery, to tour the province and give a series of lectures and demonstrations upon the culinary art. $8 for as Vancouver Island is concerned the itinerary has been arranged for lectures under the auspices of the following Women's Institutes on the dates named:

LARGE LUMBER ORDER.

Seattle, Oct. 11.—One of the largest lumber orders to be placed by the government in many months will be awarded November 4 by the United States quartermaster in Seattle. The government is in the market for 2,795, 960 feet of lumber for use in the Philippine Islands. The government wants the lumber delivered at Seattle, Tacoma or other Puget Sound point, or at Portland. The bulk of the contract calls for timbers, although a considerable quantity of boards and finishing lumber is also wanted. Owing to the condition of the lumber market and the keen competition for business, lumbermen expect that a large number of bids will be submitted.

CONFERENCE VOTES
FOR ARBITRATIONAgreement Between Britain and United States Approved
by Methodists

Toronto, Oct. 11.—The act of President Taft in bringing forward the peace proposal between England and America is one of the most courageous and magnificent attempts ever made by any statesman in the history of the world.

Shortly after this statement had been made to the Ecumenical Methodist conference yesterday by Alderman T. Snape of Liverpool, Eng., the delegates unanimously adopted a resolution endorsing the proposed arbitration.

Dr. J. Scott Lidgett, of London, Eng., editor of the Methodist Times, said: "The time is coming when everything which relates to the welfare of mankind will be considered by tribunals of peace and adjustment. Yet human nature must be transformed before we can have universal peace."

"The Church and Modern Life" was the subject of the day's papers, and some of the sub-heads under which the main topic was considered led to further discussion of "higher criticism."

Rev. S. D. Chown, of Toronto, in discussing "The Adaptation of the Church to the Needs of Modern Life," said: "We need to-day spiritual leaders who are men first and clergymen afterwards. We need in them perfect sincerity. The pulpit in some quarters is dry-rotting and languishing for the vital message of the gospel. A parrot preacher is a parasite. The layman's function is to secure social justice. The preacher is but a voice crying in the wilderness unless the laymen he represents combine to do business in the spirit of the cross."

Victoria college has conferred degrees upon the following representatives, members of the Ecumenical conference: Rev. James Chapman, principal of Southlands college, London; Rev. Edwin Dalton, Hull, president of the Primitive Methodist church.

London, Oct. 11.—The Wesleyan Methodist church, England; Rev. H. E. Laws, D. D., Westminster, Maryland, president of the Methodist Protestant church, United States; Rev. M. Packer, Leeds, president of the United Methodist church; Rev. John O. Parks, B. A., vice-president of the Irish Methodist conference; Rev. Bishop Smith, D. D., Detroit, Mich., American Methodist Episcopal church; Rev. Bishop Walden, Cincinnati, Ohio, Methodist Episcopal church; Rev. Bishop A. W. Wilson, D. WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

California Voting To-day on Constitutional Amendments.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 10.—California to-day is voting on twenty-three proposed amendments to the state constitution, three of them providing for a radical change in the method of state government. Those three, if successful, will give women the right of suffrage, will provide for the recall of all state, county or court officials, including the judiciary, and will introduce the initiative and referendum.

The recall and the initiative and referendum amendments have been urged strongly by Gov. Johnson and by many of the influential newspapers of the state.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 10.—More than 100 women of Los Angeles, who have been prominent in the campaign for equal suffrage received their first taste of real politics to-day. The suffrage amendment and the covering the initiative and referendum and recall appeared to be uppermost in the minds of the voters, not only in Los Angeles, but elsewhere. Early indications were that an unusually heavy vote would be cast.

The suffragists became so militant in their electioneering methods in the fashionable West End and University district that Captain J. J. Bratish, commanding the University Police station, sent out patrolmen with instructions to arrest the women poll workers.

THINKING THEMES

BY DR. FRANK CRANE

That race of people, which is in a fair way to being thoroughly misunderstood on this continent, that which by unfortunate circumstances is being the most unfairly misjudged, is the Italian. From one small locality, around Naples and in Sicily, where there exists a band of cut-throats generally known as the Camorra, a great deal of immigration has poured into this continent. From these we estimate the whole of Italy. They are about as typical of Italy as the Ku-Klux-Klan, or the rowdies of a Western mining camp, would be of Canada or the United States.

In reality, the Italians are perhaps the pleasantest people to live amongst on the face of the earth. They are kind. They adore little children, and as a rule have large families. They are polite. The commonest among them are courteous and obliging. They are uniformly agreeable and hospitable to strangers. The average American public employee is grumpy. An Italian is patient and smiling. They are just and honest in their dealings. They are good natured and happy. The one word that perhaps best describes them is their own untranslatable word—simpatico; which means they are not egotistic and wrapped up in self, but take an interest in you. They are warm lovers, liberal thinkers and intense admirers of art and music.

This explains why so many persons of superior taste and culture, from every nation under the sun, have come to make their last home in Italy; and why this land and people were so beloved by Keats, Shelley, Landor, Watts, Goethe, Wagner, Ruskin and the like. To me, one phrase expresses them: the Italians are the most child-like of all peoples.

TRUST CASE BEING

HEARD BY COURTS

United States Authorities Seek Action Against Railways
and Coal Companies

Washington, Oct. 11.—Action by the Supreme court of the United States to stop alleged violation of the anti-trust law by the principal railroads and coal companies in the Pennsylvania anthracite regions was urged by J. C. McReynolds, special assistant to the attorney-general, in a three-hour argument before the tribunal yesterday.

Attorney-General Wickersham is expected to address the court to-day regarding the application of the Sherman law to the facts in the case, and John G. Johnson, of Philadelphia, and others will defend the corporation attacked.

Mr. McReynolds argued that the evidence presented by the government in the United States circuit court showed there was a general combination between the railroad and the coal companies to avoid competition in the production, sale and transportation of anthracite.

As evidence of a conspiracy, he called attention to the railroads buying stock in the Temple Iron company and the latter company purchasing the "leading independent" coal concern, which was said to be lending support to a plan to build a railroad to compete with the defendant railroads. He pointed to the so-called 65 per cent. contracts for the purchase of the output of the independent mines.

Everett Warren, counsel for the Temple Iron Company, maintained that the independents did not intend to construct an interstate railroad and therefore the government's charge that the Temple Iron company was re-organized by the railroads to throttle the construction of an interstate carrier was unfounded.

HOTEL GUESTS ESCAPE.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 10.—The twenty or more occupants of the Hotel Sacry, a four-story boarding house in this city, narrowly escaped incineration in that hostelry last night. W. H. Uihm and H. J. Lee and wife, of the place, are in jail charged with arson. Awakened by the crackling of flames, one of the guests aroused the occupants, who were confronted by blazing rooms. After a strenuous battle the fire department, assisted by the lodgers, extinguished the fire. Investigation showed that a desperate effort had been made to burn down the building. Kerosene-soaked papers and clothing were found everywhere and the gas had been full turned on in a number of rooms.

STRIKERS MAY ARBITRATE.

Des Moines, Iowa, Oct. 11.—The acceptance of G. S. Gilbertson, former state treasurer, of the appointment as third man on the arbitration board in the controversy between the Des Moines city railway and its employees was the only thing expected at a late hour last night to avert a strike tomorrow. The strike order calls for a general walkout at 10:30 a. m. A final effort to affect a reconciliation between the parties to the controversy failed late to-day, when General Manager Harrigan of the company told the union executive that he would not re-instate the three men recently discharged for alleged violation of the company's rules.

ALLEGED CONFESSION.

Olympia, Wash., Oct. 11.—Two witnesses testified yesterday that George H. Wilson, now on trial for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Coble at Rainier last July, confessed to the crime while in jail. The defence was unable to make J. T. Hoppes, special officer, or Sheriff Gaston, who corroborated him, admit the use of "third degree" methods. The state also called Leander Castro, an Italian section hand, who said that Wilson told him "I did it." Later Castro admitted that Wilson may have said, "They say I did it." The defence was

INCIDENCE OF TAXATION.

The commission appointed by the government to inquire into the question of the incidence of taxation is bringing to light the wide diversity of opinions which exist among intelligent people as to the justice or injustice of the present methods by which taxes are levied and collected from the public. There is one overwhelming sentiment among those who have given evidence so far, and that is that the present system is as faulty as it can be in every particular and especially deplorable in many. In Vancouver the poll tax came in for a severe grilling in the evidence of almost every witness, yet one of the features of this obsolete tax which we have not seen complained of is the fact that it is levied upon minors who have no vote. It thus becomes what is everywhere execrated, a system of taxation without representation. The collection of this tax from youths eighteen years of age cannot fail to work hardship. It is at this age that young men become, or begin to become, helpful to their parents in their earning capacity. The early years of sacrifice necessary to the up-bringing of children reach just the term when some compensation may reasonably be expected, and the government swoops down and collects the poll tax without that inalienable right of every taxpayer to have a vote in the affairs of the country.

We have seen it suggested by one of the commissioners that the abolition of the poll tax would exempt hordes of aliens—Japanese, Chinese and Hindus—who could not be otherwise reached. This is a poor excuse for the infliction of the tax upon citizens who are not aliens. If it is intended to tax the aliens specified, why not levy a tax upon these specifically and be done with it? If it is objected that this would be class legislation, we think the alternative is a worse injustice. If the object of the poll tax is to reach these aliens, the excuse for the method of doing so is confessedly an injustice; it taxes a class of citizens who should be free in order to reach a section of the populace who should not. As to the objectionable features of the poll tax in other respects we think that is being sufficiently emphasized in the evidence taken before the commission.

All the evidence seems to point in the direction of a single tax. Not in so many words it is true, but the objections raised by those who criticize the present methods of taxation seem to leave this form open to the least objection. We speak only from an analysis of the evidence taken so far, and not in advocacy of the Single Tax system.

While there seems to be less objection to the income tax than to any of the other sources of revenue, it is painfully apparent that no honest effort has been made to devise a method by which the province may share the immense fortunes which are being made every year by the speculative methods of those who acquire lands and realize large fortunes in turning over their acquisitions. The fees for registration of titles seem to be the only method by which the province derives any revenue from the fortunes of speculators, and these bear with unequal incidence upon the small transaction, to the loss of the purchaser who buys for residential purposes. The Times is informed of a single transaction in which a piece of property turned over twice in eighteen months at an original outlay of $3,150 cost for registration of the articles of transfer no less than $42.35. We are informed that this is a not uncommon experience in the cases of small transfers.

On the other hand, non-residents sell their names to syndicates, and these bunch the names, acquiring large areas of the best lands in the province. These are sold en bloc or piece-ment to British or other speculators and sold back again at an enormously advanced figure to the bona fide settler, and the registration fees, when they begin to amount to anything, have to be paid by the bona fide settler who, in nine cases out of ten, is least able to afford it.

We are aware that this evil does not fall within the sphere of inquiry for which the commission has been appointed, and we are somewhat at a loss to know why it does not. It is one of the most gigantic of the injustices under which the people suffer. The fees for the registration of titles is one of the forms—other than taxation—by which the money of the citizen finds its way into the provincial treasury. The system is so adjusted that the speculator who makes a quick get-away goes Scott free, while the man who is compelled to stay and make good in the country as a settler and revenue producer, under other iniquitous systems of taxation, is doubly blest.

Nor will the income tax reach these predatory groups who are made wise from time to time as to the location of negotiable lands. Many of them are non-resident, and therefore escape taxation under any of the present methods. Could not the commission have been instructed to make some recommendation by which these pirates upon the public domain could be made to leave a portion of their profits behind them to aid in the development of the country in which they have succeeded by selling lands. Thus the settler who buys their acres would be less heavily fleeced. Perhaps the commission will exercise the prerogative sometimes available to juries and add a rider to the findings for the information of the government upon this vital point.

The commission has no school-boy task, and its report will be awaited with keen anticipation. It should be before the public to be well studied in time for active legislation at the next session of the legislature.

REDISTRIBUTION.

Among the subjects to which the Eastern press is devoting some attention is that of redistribution, which in accordance with parliamentary rule must occur soon after the taking of the decennial census. It is agreed that the Middle West will claim for proportionate representation in the House of Commons and the effect of the adjustment of these claims is making the government organs uneasy as, with the other complications surrounding the new government, it is feared that a reversal of the situation in the House may take place.

The Toronto News, which has abandoned all dissembling in its championing of the privileged classes, has hit upon an ingenious way of meeting the danger of such reverse. It blandly suggests that the cities, particularly Toronto, Montreal and Winnipeg, should have more representation in parliament than the present distribution of the membership affords. The plea is transparent to a degree. The cities named are the Canadian strongholds of the manufacturing and corporation interests, and it is easy to see what the News desires in advocating such a readjustment as would give these larger membership and corresponding influence in the House. The News is to be pitied. It is being called upon to pay a heavy price for its subservience to those interests which so brazenly used it during the recent campaign. The only admirable quality it maintains is the genius with which it finds methods of sustaining the control of corporations in public affairs.

The British North America Act stipulates the quota which each province may elect to represent in parliament. The basis is fixed according to the population. Within provincial territory the distribution of this quota is in the power of parliament. If the cities get more, the country must get less, and it is simply a question of Gerrymandering the constituencies so as to secure the ends sought by the organ of monopolies and that class in Canada vitally interested in the maintenance of protective tariffs. If the province of Ontario had a population of 600,000, with 400,000 of these in the city of Toronto, such plan of redistribution as proposed by the News would entitle Toronto city to twice as many representatives as the whole of the remainder of the province. Otherwise the justice of such a scheme as the News proposes is patently absent. Gerrymandering is a discreditable word because of the suggestiveness associated with the history of the term, but as the News is obviously speaking for those whose interests it serves, one need not look for such considerations from these as would be dictated by justice in the rearrangement of representation in parliament. The only question that need be asked is whether the people of Canada will, at this late day in the theory of Gerrymandering, stand for the proposed outrage.

American newspapers with varied comments on the result of Canadian elections are still coming to hand. Significantly enough, we have not yet read the deliverance of that mighty influential journal, the Chicago Democrat. It is already overdue.

To a wide circle the news of the death of the Hon. Egerton Lee Batchelor, Minister of External Affairs for the Commonwealth, suddenly at the early age of 46, will be greatly regretted, for his position as the most moderate of the present Labor Ministry and the most able member of Mr. Fisher's cabinet next to the Prime Minister and Hon. W. M. Hughes, the Attorney-General, made his name honored and respected throughout the Commonwealth. While not so widely known as other Australian politicians outside the Antipodes, he brought to bear on public questions a keen intelligence and impartial views, and in fact was scarcely sufficient of a radical for the Labor Ministry, which, however, could not do without him. His home state, South Australia, where he led the Parliamentary Labor Party from 1897 to the time of his entrance into Federal politics at Confederation, will miss him greatly. So much confidence was felt in him that his constituency, (Boothby), was unchallenged at the general election last year, and the public had complete confidence in his good judgment and common sense. Like many other public men Mr. Batchelor began life as a school teacher, but like Dr. Macnamara and Joseph Martin, K.C., M.P., he soon entered politics. His going has left a blank in the affairs of the great Antipodean confederation.

The Winnipeg Telegram complains because on his recent hurried trip to Canada Lord Strathcona did not travel on a Canadian vessel. It says: "Lord Strathcona seems to have missed an excellent opportunity to testify to his belief in the progressiveness of the country he honors as High Commissioner." It further comments that "It would seem eminently proper for those honored by the Dominion government with high positions to support Canadian enterprises and that, all things being equal, to give preference to Canadian routes of travel." What a magnificent excuse for a grouch. Lord Strathcona evidently came over on an "American" liner. Shame! But, by the way, is the Lusitania an American ship?

The Toronto Telegram, that doughty champion of self-interpreting independence in politics, says: "If Mr. J. W. Flavelle is to pick R. L. Borden's Ontario cabinet ministers, then Progress, Public Ownership and Public Rights will have a good deal less to hope for under R. L. Borden in Canada than these principles have achieved under Sir James Whitney in Ontario. The Whitney government would have never gone very far or very fast in the direction of usefulness to the people if Sir James Whitney had marched to the music of Mr. J. W. Flavelle's unprogressive sympathies and reactionary desires."

As no one man in Canada had more personal influence in deciding the personnel of the Borden cabinet than J. W. Flavelle, the people know now what to expect.

We don't believe for a moment that President Taft thinks of imposing the maximum tariff on Canadian products because of the defeat of reciprocity, but what if he did? Hasn't the new government of Canada said it wants "no trade or truck" with the Yankees, and haven't its spellbinders proved that the American market is absolutely useless to Canada?—London Advertiser.

Because of the dearth in candidates, Port Republic, N. J., a town of more than 1,000 inhabitants, will be without a municipal government during the coming year. The terms of the mayor, councilmen and all other municipal office-holders expire soon. They have all refused to run for office again and the town will be obliged to set up a co-operative scheme of government for the next twelve months.

The optimistic Colonist says, "The cabinet is not so much a Conservative as a National one." We think the morning paper "ist" dropped three letters by a slip of the pen.

DID NOT STRIKE.

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 11.—The threatened strike of street car employees did not materialize at 1:30 o'clock this morning, as had been planned. Instead, it was indefinitely postponed, on order of the executive committee of the carmen's union, to give more time in which to locate G. S. Gilbertson, former state treasurer, who yesterday was appointed a member of the arbitration board.

Beautiful Near-Seal Coats at $29.75, Tweed Coats at $11.75, and Seasonable Underwear for Men and Women at Tempting Prices

Handsome Near-Seal Coats at $29.75

A strikingly stylish coat, made of finest quality of sealskin plush. Nothing gives greater satisfaction than a coat made of this beautiful like-seal material—unless it is the skin itself and that is out of the reach of most women—the soft, velvety fur being well chosen, viewed from the standpoint of comfort and durability. The model is a very smart full length, semi-fitting garment, designed in the most pleasing lines, has neat roll collar, large revers, deep cuffs and is lined throughout. Comfort and style are well expressed in these garments and the price is so low that it is hard for you to realize that such a high grade garment can be offered at this figure unless you see it for yourself. Thursday's price $29.75

Popular Styles and Prices in Women's Long Coats

At no time in the history of this store have we had such a wide and interesting showing of Long Coats marked at prices that are not only popular, but remarkably low for the standard of quality that the goods represent. There are so many styles in vogue this season—and all the best may be seen here—that it is difficult to describe them all in full, or give you an adequate idea of the choice stock that is here for you to choose from. There are models with handsome shawl collars made of reversible tweeds, collars, cuffs and pockets faced with the reversible side of the material and handsomely finished with stitching and buttons, also roll or military collar styles, finished with stitched bands, buttons, pipings or dashes of plaids and other materials. See the window display on View street, and if you don't see a style or a size to suit you—enquire for it in the Mantle Department. It's sure to be there. Prices ranging down from $25 to $11.75

Distinctive Black Velvet Costumes at Modest Prices

The coats are semi-fitting and are trimmed in a variety of styles. Some have collars, cuffs and revers inlaid with moire silk and outlined with wide military braid, while others have handsome pointed sailor collars of plain velvet trimmed with braid or inlaid with silks and cloths and finished with a heavy tassel at the back. The lining is an excellent quality of Skinner satin and the skirts are beautifully finished with a panel effect back and front, also neat braid trimmings at the sides. Will you please inspect these garments? We cannot adequately describe them, and unless you see them you cannot fully appreciate their beauty. Prices, $55, $65 and $75.00

There are smart, plain tailored models in a small check with front and shoulders trimmed with a wide fold of black taffeta, piped with king's blue satin and finished with crocheted buttons, attractive styles made of the new Roman striped silk with yokes of fine lace and lapels of contrasting colors and finished with buttons. These are only a few of the samples that we are now showing. We cannot describe them all, but will be pleased to show you at your leisure. Your choice from a fine assortment at $5.75

ODD FELLOWS PLAN FOR NEW BUILDING

View Street Site is Location of New Home for Growing Fraternal Order

Members of the Odd Fellows order will to-night discuss plans for the erection of a new temple on two full-sized lots recently purchased on View street. When the plans are passed the new building will be commenced immediately. The cost is figured at $140,000 to provide three storeys. On the invitation of Columbia No. 2, the members of Victoria and Dominion lodges will meet with them.

The necessity for increased accommodation became apparent two years ago owing to the increasing membership in the order here, and the lots were then purchased. The wisdom of the investment has been proved by the enhanced value of the property to-day. The Odd Fellows have occupied the present premises on Douglas street since 1885, and they own also the Stelly block, which was leased recently to L. W. Bick for ten years. Tenders for the purchase of the present property were called but the bids offered were considered below the market value and no action was taken. When the final word has been said and the plans approved the important step of calling for tenders will be taken and another handsome block will go up.

BANK DIRECTORS PAY VICTORIA A VISIT

Board of Eastern Townships Bank on Tour of West—President Heads Party

An interesting party from the directorate of the Eastern Townships Bank was in the city for a brief visit this week, arriving on Sunday afternoon, and leaving on Monday, being entertained during their stay by A. C. Flummet, a director.

The party consisted of the following directors from Sherbrooke, Quebec, the bank headquarters: President William Farwell, General Manager MacKinnon, F. N. McRae and J. S. Mitchell; also Gardner Stephens, Waterloo, Ont., and J. G. Foster. The manager of the Winnipeg branch of the bank, W. L. Ball, also accompanied the party.

They were met by Mr. Flummet and the manager of the local branch, Mr. King, and left with the intention of visiting the Kootenays and Southern Alberta en route east. On the mainland a visit was paid to the fair island, necessarily brief though it was. Mr. Farwell has been associated with banking business since 1859 in Quebec province, only a few months of which were with the People's Bank, after which he became cashier of the Eastern Townships Bank, and became chief executive officer in 1901, thus at the time of his retirement from the position of general manager he had the record of being the oldest in time of service of any manager in Canada.

EAMES-GOGORZA CONCERT RECITAL

Programme for Great Musical Event in Victoria Theatre Friday Evening

The city is waking up to the fact that two of the greatest artists in the world are expected here in the persons of Madame Eames and M. de Gogorza, who appear in the Victoria theatre on Friday, October 13. Seattle audiences declare Mme. Eames "incomparable" and M. de Gogorza to possess "a voice of extraordinary beauty and lingering sweetness." The indications are that the theatre will be packed for the people of Victoria know a good thing.

The accompaniment is M. Henry Gilles, a French youth who is a pupil of Diemer of Paris, who has performed his part very brilliantly and merits no small share of the praise awarded to the Eames-Gogorza concert.

That Madame Eames is mistress of a flawless technique is well known. That she is a singer of warm, rich, sincere nature is also a matter of general knowledge, and that she is one of the most beautiful women in the world is also well known. That Victoria lovers of all that is beautiful and appealing to ear and eye will have an opportunity of judging these qualities for themselves on Friday is assured by the enterprise of the Victoria Ladies' Musical Club.

Speaking of technique Madame Eames says: "Technique is a cold word. It is a cold word, but it is the foundation on which one builds, the material with which one works—a thing to be forgotten and taken for granted later when the superstructure is complete."

Ladies of Culture and Refinement Use Salvia Hair Tonic. It Makes the Hair Beautiful.

At last a remedy has been discovered that will positively destroy this pest. That Dandruff is caused by germs is accepted by every sensible person. Dandruff is the root of all hair evils. SALVIA will kill the dandruff germs and remove Dandruff in ten days, or money back.

Campbell, druggist, guarantees it. It will grow hair, stop itching scalp, falling hair, and make the hair thick and abundant. It prevents hair from turning gray, and adds life and lustre.

SALVIA is a hair dressing that has become the favorite with women of taste and culture, who know the social value of beautiful hair. A large general store, only 50c. at leading druggists everywhere, and in Victoria by Campbell. The word "SALVIA" (Latin for sage) is on every bottle.

At a meeting of the directors of the B. C. Permanent Loan Company, held in the board room, Vancouver, B. C., on the 5th inst., Mr. R. J. Robertson was elected to the directorate to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of the late Mr. R. H. Duke.

Mr. Robertson first became connected with the B. C. Permanent in 1898 and in the following year was appointed manager in Victoria. From there he was moved to St. John, N. B. In 1907 Mr. Robertson was appointed supervisor of all the agencies. His broad experience in loan company matters, his knowledge of towns and all localities where the company conducts its operations, and his acquaintance with the shareholders will stand Mr. Robertson in good stead and will enable him to give much valuable advice as a director of the company.

On several different occasions Mr. Robertson has inspected all of the securities of the B. C. Permanent. Mr. Robertson accompanied the President, Mr. T. T. Langlois, on his recent visit to the Old Country and while there was instrumental in establishing a valuable connection for the sale of Sterling Debentures. He has done more than any other man outside of the Head Office in the upbuilding of the company.

GUARANTEE MONEY IS NOW FIXED ON

University Rugby Teams Agree to $1,800—B. C. Team Leaves Oct. 21

It has now been definitely decided that the B. C. Rugby team will leave for the south to play the universities of California and Stanford on October 21. The games will be played on October 25 and 28 against California at Berkeley and November 1 and 4 against Stanford at Stanford.

For a time it was thought there was going to be some trouble about the expense money. The universities wanted to guarantee only $1,500, while the B. C. players asked for $1,800. The southerners have now agreed that it is best to come through with the extra $300, however, and have wired Vancouver and Victoria secretaries to that effect.

The team, of course, has not yet been definitely picked, but it is likely that those named at the meeting in Vancouver on Saturday will be allowed to go along. The management figures on taking about 23 players, and as there is almost sure to be a few of those mentioned who will find that they will be unable to take the necessary time off from their duties, it is hardly likely that the selection committee will find it necessary to do any pruning.

Both Vancouver and Victoria players will be expected to take advantage of every opportunity from now on to get in practice. In about five days the regular line-up and the substitutes will be announced.

PITCHER VS. PRESIDENT

There was a time when the American small boy yearned to grow up and become president of his country. He might still take the job if it were thrust upon him, but he is too busy trying to become a great baseball pitcher to waste any time in vain years.

The pitcher is the human Gattling gun who shoots the ball at the batter. It is his mission to protect the team from all injury at the hands of the latter. He is the mainstay of the team and the one with which the winds himself up for each throw shows that he appreciates the fact. A successful pitcher can fill a baseball park twice a week with admirers of baseball debate, contention work and target practice.

The pitcher must not only throw the ball violently, but he must deceive the batter as to its intentions. It is beautiful to watch a good pitcher doing this. He balances himself on one toe, wraps the other about his waist, looks both arms about his neck, rubs his nose on his trousers, wags his left ear to the catcher as a signal and then uncoils like a influence over the ball that it will frequently hesitate half-way to the plate, and almost come back to be snatched some more.

Occasionally a pitcher who has tied himself up in this fashion, forgets the combination and the result is very distressing. He must be taken entirely apart and reassembled before he can set his neck out from under his shoulder blades.

There are two kinds of pitchers—wet and dry. The latter carries a ball without the aid of glue, saliva or porous plaster. The former likes the ball with this long glistening tongue, and then hurls it at the batter, who is either drowned or is deceived into striking at the spray. Spittball pitchers are usually very effective until they go dry in the seventh innings. If there were any way of training an artisan well as a pitcher, batting averages would become almost invisible.

The pitcher has to begin his career very early in life. A boy may fool around for 30 years before determining to become president, and still land the job all right, but a pitcher has to start before the age of ten, or he will be ostracized before he gets out of the bush league. The young pitcher must learn how to throw a ball three times in 50 feet. He must learn how to watch the catcher, the umpire and second base at the same time and to enjoy the taste of wet horsehide and how to dig the ball out of his thorax, where it has been driven by the cruel batsman, and how to tangle himself up so intricately while addressing the ball that the batter will think he is having a fit and will not prepare for the ball. As a reward for all this labor, however, he may become a great man and may some day be sold to Pittsburgh for so big a sum that his owner can buy a private yacht with the money he got for him.

SPORT NOTES

A general meeting of the Wards will be held in their club room to-morrow evening for the purpose of electing a captain for the senior football team and arranging for the grounds. All members are asked to attend at 8 o'clock sharp.

There is no doubt that the Victoria West Athletic Club's dance, to be held in the A. O. U. W. hall on Monday evening, Oct. 23, will exceed in splendor that of all previous years. It is the 9th annual, and these in charge of all arrangements are working with all their might and main to make it the most successful in the history of the club.

The Beacon Hill Athletic Association will wind up the 1911 season's affairs at a meeting to be held this evening at 1122 Government street (cupists). Among other things matters pertaining to the season's baseball are to be discussed. It is hoped that there will be a good attendance.

Harvard has a new, strong man, Frederick B. Huntington of Leicester, Mass., center on the football team, and a featherweight American football man in that position. As strong man, Huntington has displaced F. H. Leslie, the old Harvard champion, whom he defeated by 94 points, according to the strength tests figured in the Sargent system. Huntington's record shows a total of 262 points, reckoned upon the strength of legs, back, forearms, upper chest and arms. With his legs Huntington lifted 1243 pounds. He chipped himself sixteen times and "dipped" twenty-five times. He weighs only 153 pounds, but is broad and has a powerful physique.

Turfmen of New York have about come to the conclusion that racing will not be legalized in the near future. Phil Dwyer, president of the Brooklyn Jockey Club, said yesterday: "There will be a meeting of our club Friday which will decide whether, we shall hold the Grandstand track, which we own, or shall give it up and allow it to be cut up into building lots. I shall advise the Jockey Club to sell the track, for in my opinion horse-racing can not come back inside of two or three years. I think we would be better off getting some return from the track by way of a sale than by letting it lie idle." The Queens County Jockey Club, which is also headed by Phil Dwyer and which owns the Aqueduct track, will probably be faced with the same proposition as the Brooklyn track. When asked, Mr. Dwyer said: "I don't know what will be done about Aqueduct, but it likely will be sold."

For the first time in his career as a boxer, Battling Nelson, former lightweight champion, will appear in a New York ring to-night. He is matched to box ten rounds with Willie Behr, an East Side professional.

CHAMPIONSHIPS FOR B. C.

Wrestling Bouts for National Title in 1912 Offered By C. A. A. U.

Vancouver, Oct. 11.—The wrestling championships of Canada for 1912 have been definitely offered to the B. C. A. A. U. and while the provincial governing body has not yet had time to consider the offer, there can be little doubt that the offer will be accepted. Application was made for both the wrestling and boxing championships, and while the secretary of the C. A. A. U. intimated in a letter to the B. C. A. A. U. that they wanted the championships in the East this year because they were a fruitful source of revenue to the C. A. A. U., he stated that the Coast could regard 1912 as its turn with the wrestling championships. No 1911 championships were held, the last wrestling championships taking place in Winnipeg in 1910.

AMATEUR ICE HOCKEY GAMES THIS WINTER

Likely That Association Will Be Formed on Same Lines as Basketball

It is likely that Victoria will see a good deal of ice hockey this winter. Besides the professional team under Lester Patrick's leadership, there will be, if everything goes right, a number of amateur teams.

Arrangements are now under way in many of the athletic clubs for the formation of hockey leagues on the same lines as the basketball and football. How many leagues there will be is not known, for as yet no combined action has been taken. The movement has been restricted entirely to individual clubs.

There is no doubt, however, that as soon as it is known that the new rink can be secured at reasonable charges, the clubs will get together, organize an association and arrange matters in a business like way.

One ice hockey club, with no connection with any of the athletic bodies in the city, has already been formed, and when city has already been formed, and when the manager of it interviews Lester Patrick in the near future, as he expects to do, for the purpose of finding out on what terms the rink can be had for games, it is a certainty that matters will go ahead with a rush.

If this ice hockey association becomes a fact, and there is absolutely no reason why it should not, it will provide for sporting enthusiasts a far greater measure of indoor winter sport than has been on the programme in past years.

PLAYERS FOR WORLD SERIES ARE IN FORM

Practice Games of Giants Started To-day—Probable Line-Up of Teams

New York, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Managers have their troubles, but the physical condition of players will be the least of them in the world's series of 1911, remarked John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, as he dropped into the club's headquarters on Broadway to-day. In this respect, at least, the coming games between the Giants and the Athletics will be unusual, for both teams expect to take the field with their regular line-ups in fine form.

If the weather clears the Giants will play Brooklyn a double-header to-day, and the game will be nothing more than exercise for those whom McGraw wants to keep on edge. The New York club has no players who will be incapacitated from crossing bats with the Athletics.

Fred Merkle, first baseman, sprang a "charley-horse" last week, but he is working it off. He said he did not think it would slow him up much. The Indians, Meyers, grew stale toward the close of the National League season and McGraw gave him a rest. Meyers says he is fit. McGraw probably will form the following order for the Giants on Saturday: Devore, 1 b.; Doyle, 2 b.; Snodgrass, c.; F. Murray, r. f.; Merkle, 1 b.; Herzog, 3 b.; Fletcher, s. s.; Meyers, c.; Matthews, p.

Athletics from the Athletics' camp indicate that First Baseman "Stuffy" McInnes will be back on the bag when the team meets the Giants. He received a severe welt on the wrist from a pitched ball in one of the recent Detroit games. Manager Mack's batting order probably will be as follows:

Lord, 1 b.; Gehrig, c. f.; Collins, 2 b.; Baker, 3 b.; Murphy, r. f.; McInnes, 1 b.; Barry, s. s.; Thomas, c.; Bender, p.

Williams is not Victoria property and will be performing in the Coast league at all events next season. As the Coast league does not close until October 25, Williams may pitch a few more games this season. The Honolulu boy pitched some nice ball for Victoria.

Athletics of St. Catharines May Go to Olympic With V. A. C. Lacrosse Team.

St. Catharines, Ont., Oct. 11.—Joe Timmons, secretary of the Athletic Lacrosse Club, has received a letter from a man now in the west inviting the Athletics' team to go to the Olympic games in Sweden next year and also to tour Europe. Two Canadian amateur lacrosse teams are to be taken, the Vancouver being the other team. It looks as if the St. Catharines team was sure to go. Games are scheduled at Stockholm for July 23 and 25. The team will leave Canada on May 27 and be gone for four months, during which time they will visit the principal points on the continent and in Great Britain and Ireland.

ABOUT BASEBALL

Although the first game for the city supremacy will be fought two days hence and the world's series starts but a couple of days later, few big wagers have been recorded in sporting circles of Chicago. Never before in the history of post-season struggles for baseball supremacy has the betting been so light. This change is not thought to be due to lack of interest by the "fans," however, but rather because men who "take a chance" are undecided on which to bet, the contending teams being considered so evenly matched. Few offers to bet on either series have been heard on the floor of the Chicago board of trade. Those bets which have been made on the outcome of the Cub-White Sox conflict have been at even odds. Several brokers have accommodated country customers and taken short ends of the wagers on the Athletics-Giants clash, with New York favorite at 10 to 9 and 10 to 8.

Ten Million has not yet retired for a winter's rest, as the following shows: A team picked from professional players in the Northwestern, Western Canada and Washington State Leagues will stack up against the strongest Japanese team the Mikados can put in the field next Sunday afternoon at Dugdale's park, Seattle. The Japanese have been making rapid strides in the national game and have now reached the point where they want to find out just how they compare with the professional class. A bunch of the Japanese showed up at President Dugdale's office a day or so ago and announced in diplomatic terms that they were ready to tackle anything left in the city after the exodus following the close of the Northwestern League season. Dug said that he was out of baseball for the remainder of the season, but that did not prevent the clash if the players wanted to go at it. George Engle, of the Vancouver club, hustled around with the result that the following will give the Mikados a run: Quigley, second base; Bill Hurley, first base; Hanna, catcher; Dunn, left fielder; Raymond, shortstop; Schmutz, pitcher; Engle, pitcher; Ten Million, centre field; Bobby James, third base; Wineholt, right field; Cruickshank, right field. The game will be played at Dugdale's park. The umpire has not been selected.

Eddie Householder and Tealey Raymond are now figuring on passing the winter in California. Tealey was up in Vancouver last year, but the sunny south looks good to him just now.

CIVIC JUGGLERY OR HIGH FINANCE

Protest From Hon. J. S. Helmcken—Terms Harsh to Property Owners

Hon. J. S. Helmcken sent a long letter to the city council last evening dealing with the expropriation proceedings in connection with his property for the extension of Douglas street from Humboldt to Elliot streets, a matter he brought before the Provincial Tax Commission in this city recently. The letter was passed on to the city solicitor without discussion, and is self-explanatory. It is as follows:

"Gentlemen—Your petitioner, the undersigned (J. S. Helmcken) respectfully deposes that your honorable body of your own will, have determined and decreed by advertisement and otherwise to widen Douglas street from Humboldt to Superior street to one hundred (100) feet in width, and to do so intend to expropriate a large portion of my lots, viz. numbered 1245 and 1246, by taking therefrom a strip of land 60 feet fronting on Belleville street; running thence by a diagonal line to 20 feet on Elliott street; thus including the whole of their frontage on Douglas street and thus taking away the more valuable portion of this my property. To widen the road so greatly is unnecessary; the cost of its construction and maintenance too great and unbearable.

"Your petitioner has been officially informed that the annexed statement or table is simply an official estimate of the estimated cost of acquiring the expropriated land and the compensation therefor, and has nothing to do with the construction of the road; that in fact the cost of constructing the road will have to be paid for additionally in accordance with the Local Improvement By-law.

"It is maintained that the Municipal Clauses Act makes a difference between the expropriation of land and construction of works. "With regard to the compensation to be given by your honorable body for the portion of the lots, there is no mention presumably because your petitioner has first to state his price, but according to the annexed official table or calculation of your honorable body, it appears that your petitioner has to pay for the expropriation of his own land two hundred and eighty-seven dollars, and twenty-five cents ($287.25) annually for fifty years, and if not paid, the amount will be levied of the remainder of the lots in question with interest, simple or compound? And this for your honorable body's expropriation of my land? Does your honorable body consider the sum granted to be a loan to be repaid with interest? Your petitioner believes the condition ought to be exactly the reverse. It seems that whatever sum the arbitrators award to your petitioner must be returned to your honorable body in yearly instalments, so he gets nothing and loses his land! Gets nothing but taxes! An evident plan of financial jugglery!

"This is so manifestly unjust; so contrary to all conceptions of honesty and fair dealing, that your petitioner feels that your honorable body have misinterpreted or misunderstood the true meaning of the Municipal Clauses Act, for it is beyond belief that the Provincial government of British Columbia could have passed such an act so redolent of opportunities for fraud of every description in these days of moral reform, too!

"The cost of the expropriated land should be paid by the corporation, i. e. the public to whom the property will belong and not by your petitioner.

"Your petitioner therefore humbly suggests that the legal points and hearing in a friendly manner, be placed before a judge of the Supreme court for his opinion in this to all concerned a very important matter.

"Your petitioner assumes that the Arbitration Commissioner has nothing at all to do with explanation or settlement of legal questions, so my legal adviser has pro forma already sent to your honorable body or your representatives or servants, a statement of the value of the land in question, but the estimate must be understood, to be without prejudice or in any way a bar to obtaining the friendly act and assistance asked for in this humble petition from.

Your humble servant,
J. S. HELMCKEN.

"P. S.—It is a question whether such extensive public improvements should or should not be paid out of the general city revenue and not by the individual."

MAJESTIC THEATRE

"The Mexican Joan of Arc" is the true story of the recent Mexican revolution, and will be featured at the Majestic theatre on Wednesday and Thursday. All the scenes were taken in Mexico and most of the actors portraying the characters are genuine Mexicans and Indians. "The Thief and the Girl" is a pretty biograph play and is a variant of the old theme. The story is in biograph pictures, is very pretty in this part. The gentleman-thief is also played with a pleasing restraint through a series of very melodramatic situations. The backgrounds are unusually beautiful. "Billy the Kid" is the story of a girl brought up by her grandfather, who thinks she is a boy. The girl leads the life of a cowboy until she is sixteen years of age, and her sex is discovered through an encounter with a band of outlaws. She marries her pal, to whom she is always known as Billy. "Through Jealous Eyes" is one of the best dramas ever produced.

OUR LETTER BOX

A WORD FOR MERE PEDESTRIANS.

To the Editor:—By careful study, and reading between the lines, of your lady correspondent's letter last evening, I have discovered another instance of historic repetition in the faint line of demarcation the lady 'draws' between the 'lupper and the lower suckles' in Victoria (motorists and pedestrians), which in a very short time may become more distinct in separating those local representatives of the 'classes and the masses.'

Observe the frequent use of the exclusive personal pronoun "we," the "extension of sympathy" to the motorist who hit the boy," but none for the boy; her contempt for those of the "masses" who are compelled by circumstances to "sleep on the street." Pedestrians (apropos of nothing) are described as "feathered kind," "feathered kind," and she speaks contemptuously of the "amount of dust we cover them with." According to your correspondent all pedestrians should be corralled by the police on the sidewalks, although a learned judge decided they were "kings of the road and the first to be considered," as in London, England, where the traffic is fairly well regulated. I have never heard of read of any clash between motorists and pedestrians, when the latter might be hanged, as suggested by the writer in the Times. But I cannot say as much for male motorists, a class that has become too notorious for "killing and running away." Therefore the rules of the road for motorists, when driven by such irresponsible persons cannot be too stringent. If motorists were driven exclusively by women there would be no necessity for such strict rules and regulations, as motoring is one of the many things they do gracefully and well.

"WILL-O'-THE-WISP."

PALMISTS MUST GO.

To the Editor:—There must be some fascinating influence which causes the intellectual women of the world to become a prey to palmists and fortune tellers. They are worse than pickpockets and blackmailers, and under the criminal law of Canada are subject to imprisonment upon conviction.

Being resolved to force this question to an issue I would thank the press to assist in bringing to the notice of the "man in the street" some of the depredations and schemes of these scoundrels. Fortune tellers, which de facto palmists really are, worm themselves into the secrets of the people by setting one woman against another regardless of the consequences. They have separated man and wife and also friends. They sometimes play into the hands of unscrupulous persons. They operate in combination with disreputable detective agencies working up on the minds of young married people. They also reap an income from prospective suitors. They are the worst of their harvest is, however, drawn from married women. They inform them that some dark woman is crossing their path, if they happen to be blonde, and vice versa. These stupid women then take others with them who pay to know if their husbands are true. The palmist finds out in conversation matters of importance to other women, whom they ultimately get into their clutches. They know so much that is true, from the information already received. So successful are they in this regard that they continue to dupe some of these people for several years. The palmist is generally a splendid judge of human nature and makes random assertions, some of which strike home.

I read of one who usually describes a bedroom to the victim. She sees there a bureau, a trunk and a bed. Now are there not very few bedrooms, belonging to people in the ordinary walks of life, which do not contain a bed, a trunk and a bureau? The victim is all attention to hear the next statement. It is varied according to the circumstances. She is going to be seriously ill, perhaps with appendicitis. The power of suggestion is so powerful that the victim eventually believes that she is going to have appendicitis, and although there are no grounds whatever for such belief the nervous system is so preyed upon that the dupe undergoes considerable suffering and ultimately goes to a physician recommended by the palmist, and in some cases they are advised to call back at the office or room on a certain hour of the day for a bottle of medicine which is sent them by a confederate of the palmist. Finally the dupe is overcome and almost helpless. These villainous scoundrels, I do not care whether they are men or women, are often the direct cause of the ruin of some young woman. They obtain for young women old men for marriage, which ends in divorce. I know these are extreme cases, but nevertheless they are facts.

Perhaps I have said enough, however, to at least start the religious bodies at any rate, against these pickpockets, who do sometimes actually engage their services to prey upon the people who attend their bazaars and sales of work.

I understand that the police would not tolerate their remaining in the Vancouver exhibition grounds. But at New Westminster they reaped a harvest. One silly woman paid to hear the palmist's words. The fortune teller took her handkerchief, folded it up, talked a lot of gibberish, asked the victim to blow on it and said you will have good health. One dollar, please!

BIG FIRE BROKE OUT ON QUEEN ALEXANDRA

Badly Damaged. During Time
C. P. R. Were Dicking for Her—Repairs Completed

During the time the C. P. R. were negotiating the purchase of the crack turbine steamer "Queen Alexandra" a fire broke out aboard the vessel and she was seriously damaged. This occurred about the middle of last month and in the meantime the work of repairing her has been completed. The Glasgow Weekly Mail of September 16 which has just arrived, contains an account of the fire which is as follows:

A serious outbreak of fire occurred yesterday on board the turbine pleasure steamer "Queen Alexandra" as she lay at her coaling berth at Greenock. As a result extensive damage was done to the vessel. The fire originated in the engineers' store-room on the main deck, and spread aft with much rapidity. When the fire brigade arrived, the flames were rising high into the air. The sides of the vessel were hot, and giving out heat of such intensity that the firemen had to devote their energies to damping the hull before they could approach near enough to endeavor to cope with the flames.

When they were able to apply the three lines of hose which they were using to the flames, the firemen made every effort to confine the outbreak to amidships, and for fully two hours they played a constant stream of water into the hold before the flames were under control. The main and upper decks were burned through, and the promenade deck was also badly damaged, while the bar, the fruit and confectionery stalls, and the saloon, all on the main deck, as well as dining-room, were practically destroyed.

Several of the ships boats were burned from the davits, and the net result of the outbreak might be described as an almost entire gutting of the vessel aft. The part of the pier at which the vessel was lying was also damaged, the piles of the quay wall catching fire as the flames leaped over the side of the steamer. The origin of the fire is unknown, and no feasible explanation has so far been forthcoming. A great many of the ship's fittings, including the expensive upholstery in the dining-room and the saloon, have of course, been completely destroyed.

CHANGE IN NORTHERN SERVICE NEXT MONTH

G. T. P. to Operate but One Vessel During Winter—Capt. Nicholson in Town.

About the first of next month a change will most likely be made in the service of the Grand Trunk Pacific Steamship Co. to Prince Rupert. Capt. C. H. Nicholson, superintendent of the company, who arrived in town this morning on the steamer Prince George, stated that one of the vessels could be withdrawn about that time from the run but a weekly service maintained between Victoria, Seattle and Vancouver and Prince Rupert, during the winter months.

It has not yet been decided which one of the big coasters will be the first to lie up. Immediately on the withdrawal work will commence aboard the vessel in equipping her with oil burners. Capt. Nicholson has just returned from a trip to San Francisco, where he arranged for the purchasing of oil to supply the two Prince steamers. Oil tanks are to be erected in Vancouver and the vessels will take on their fuel there while the freight is being loaded and unloaded. In the past the vessels have always put into Nanaimo on their southbound trips and spent four or five hours filling their bunkers. This delay will be eliminated with the oil fuel and the vessels will make faster time.

When one of the steamers has been equipped with the burners and undergone her annual overhaul, she will relieve the other vessel on the run, which will then have the oil apparatus installed. With this method of generating steam it is expected that the Prince steamers will increase their speed a little, making slightly over nineteen knots. Minor alterations are to be made to the big steamers and they will be placed in the best possible shape for the spring season next year.

Nothing has been heard yet as to whether the smaller ships of the fleet will be equipped with oil burners. It is believed, however, that the Prince Albert (Capt. Duncan McKenzie), operating in the service to northern British Columbia ports, will in the near future use oil as fuel instead of coal.

DENSE FOGS PREVAIL DURING EARLY HOURS

Prince George Delayed in Making Port—Brings South Many Passengers From Rupert

Dense fogs hanging over the Straits this morning delayed the Grand Trunk Pacific steamer Prince George, Capt. Frank Saunders, in getting to her berth. The mist, which was of great density, completely blotted out all sight of land, and it was with difficulty that the entrance to the harbor was made. In a fog it is a tricky job for a skipper to locate the entrance, and in order to make the work easier a fog alarm is to be established on McLaughlin Point.

Outside of the foggy weather encountered coming across from Vancouver, the officers of the George state that they had a splendid trip south from Prince Rupert. Excellent weather was experienced and the mists met were very light. The George came south with a very large passenger list, but her holds were empty. Among those who arrived here was Dr. E. H. Bryce, chief medical officer of the department of interior and department of Indian affairs, who made the round trip on the steamer.

Other passengers included the following: Miss Hoare, Miss Allan, B. Andren, Wm. Hick, Miss McKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. Kipp, Miss Houston, R. A. McDonald, A. M. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Morrill, Miss Burton, F. C. Keller, S. W. Walter, S. Wilson, W. E. Marston and Miss Larkin. She also brought south a large number of second class passengers, including laborers from Prince Rupert.

At 10 o'clock this morning the George left on her regular trip to Seattle and will return here early tomorrow morning, sailing for the north via Vancouver at 10 o'clock. Quite a number of passengers have been booked at the local offices, and she will also load a good cargo of freight here.

The C. P. R. steamer Princess Royal, Capt. Locke, will arrive in port tomorrow afternoon from Skagway and Prince Rupert. She was reported at 120 o'clock this morning as being off Eagle Island southbound. She is bringing south many passengers and also a small cargo.

Princess Victoria Hits Dock at Vancouver—Ferry Steamers Delayed by Fogs

Vancouver, Oct. 11.—The C. P. R. steamer Princess Victoria, Captain Hickey, while coming into port this morning during a dense fog, struck the C. P. R. wharf abreast of Berth No. 2, and several piles and the stringer timber were smashed. The shock shaking up the customs office and freight office on No. 2 berth. The steamer was undamaged.

Dense fog prevailed until this afternoon and all the ferry boats were late in arriving. The Princess Adelaide, Captain Hunter, did not arrive from Seattle until 10 a. m., three hours late, and she got away at 11:10 a. m., reporting fog from Discovery Island to Vancouver. The Charmer, Captain Ritchie, on the Nanaimo run, was about half an hour late. The Victoria got away on time at 1 p. m. for Victoria. The fog tied up shipping generally and several small craft had to postpone departures.

ALASKAN WHALERS HAVE GOOD SEASON

Take Over 400 Mammals—Biggest Whale Measured 86 Feet and Made Fierce Fight

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 11.—With a hardy crew of whalers who have just completed a very profitable season along the Southeastern and Southwestern Alaska coasts, the steam whaling vessel Fearless, of the Tye Whaling Company, arrived on the Sound last night. The season is practically over and one by one the vessels are being laid up for the winter. The Tye and Resolute have arrived from the north and the barge Diamondhead, which has been with the fleet, will soon be sent to San Francisco.

Over 400 whales were captured during the season and their carcasses taken to Tye, Alaska, where the bone and the oil is extracted and the rest of the carcasses converted into fertilizer.

The biggest whale of the season was captured by the crew of the Fearless and measured 86 feet in length. She gave the crew a fierce battle before being landed. Three species of whale were captured by the Tye company, the sulphur-bottom, the humpback and the finback.

MAY BE ANOTHER GUN-A-NOOT CASE

An Indian Murderer Escapes
From Custody at Clinton and Kills Chief Witness

Vancouver, Oct. 11.—Detectives and provincial police are scattered through the mountains along the Cariboo road in search of Moise, an Indian, who is suspected of having murdered Wye, a Chinaman, last week. The crime occurred the day after the Indian's escape from Clinton jail, where he was being held for trial for the killing of a white man in that district last February.

According to advices received here the evidence in the hands of the authorities indicates that Moise committed the recent crime. Following his escape from the lockup he made direct for the cabin of Wye on the Cariboo road, a few miles below Clinton. Wye, it seems, was to have been the principal witness against the Indian in connection with the first murder. Knowing the case that could be made against him in the event of recapture, the accused, according to the police, deemed it best to get rid of the Chinaman, who was found in his cabin with his head split open.

The deed was committed with an axe, which with its blood-stains, was found alongside the body of the victim. It is understood that the attorney-general will be asked to offer a reward for the arrest of the Indian, whose whereabouts are unknown. The chase promises to be as dramatic as the government's pursuit of Gun-a-Noot, a Hazelton Indian, who, after murdering a Frenchman, took to the hills and, protected by other Indians, has thus far evaded arrest.

At the assizes held at Clinton last week Mr. Justice Gregory presided, the crown being represented by A. M. Whiteside, of this city. The lawyers for the defence were James Murphy and Stuart Henderson, of Ashcroft.

Charlie George, an Indian, charged with the murder of Susan, an Indian woman, near Clinton last winter, was found guilty of manslaughter and given a penitentiary term of twelve years.

Johnnie Daniels, another Indian, was tried for the alleged murder of Willie Michel, an Indian, near Lytton, in August last. The jury brought in a verdict of manslaughter and the prisoner was given five years at New Westminster.

J. McGloin, convicted of forgery, received a term of three and one-half years.

TAFT'S THEORIES ON WORLD WIDE PEACE

He Expounds Them Before a Large Audience in Seattle Yesterday

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 11.—Before a large audience yesterday afternoon, President Taft expounded his theories on the subject of world-wide peace and arbitration. The president reiterated his belief that questions involving national honor and vital interests could safely be arbitrated.

"We have no treaties with England," the President said, "and other countries in which we agree to submit all questions to arbitration. We leave out the questions which, when they arise, are likely to lead to war. If arbitration is worth anything, it is an instrumentality of avoiding war."

After declaring that he would arbitrate questions of national honor, the President continued:

"One hundred and fifty years ago so-called gentlemen were required to meet on the field of honor. If one insulted another the insulted man had to call out the man who insulted him and make himself a target for the insult. Now if it worked so that the insult was killed you would say that was a satisfactory conclusion, but suppose the insulted man was killed?"

"Here, if some nation infringes on national honor we get to work and fight with them. If we are successful the Lord is on our side, and we have wiped out the slur to our honor. If we are licked, then the Lord is mistaken. We are looking for some means by which war can be made less, and perhaps abolished."

"Now, all Europe is in arms, not for a war, because they hope they will never have a war. The armament is to meet war if it comes. As a consequence every nation is continuing to increase its armament. It has been attempted to make each disarm, but in each case they say let my neighbor do it first, and the only way of discontinuing armament is bankruptcy."

Referring to the treaties before the Senate, relating to arbitration with England, the President said it provided for the appointment of a joint-high commission, to consist of three American and three British to be appointed. Discussing the Senate's objection to the treaty with England, the President declared that the game of arbitration could not be played on the principle of heads I win and tails you lose.

"If we are going into the arbitration business let's go into it for keeps. One party is bound to have judgment rendered against it. If you don't make an arbitration treaty that sticks, then it is worth making. What we want to do is to make a contract that sticks with France and another with England."

"All the world is looking to us to lead in this movement toward permanent peace," he concluded.

WON'T ACCEPT SCHEDULE.
Vancouver Wants Only Home and Home Games With Each Island Team.

Vancouver, Oct. 11.—The Vancouver Rugby Union on Monday night decided not to accept the schedule drawn up by the B. C. Rugby Union, which called for two home and home games with Victoria and Nanaimo. The secretary was instructed to notify the B. C. Union that so many Saturdays, combined with those set apart for California, could not be spared for "prep" football, and that only home and home games could be played with each of the island clubs. If the union did not agree, their resignation from the provincial body might have to be considered.

This was the unanimous feeling of the meeting. The members of the union expressed themselves as wanting to assist Rugby football on Vancouver Island all they could, but they were meeting with some success in developing club football in Vancouver, and they did not think that in justice to the clubs they could enter so many "prep" games with the island.

As there will be five senior clubs in the local league and that means one will be resting up each Saturday, it will be pointed out to Victoria that friendly matches could be arranged with the club having a vacant Saturday.

The Last Word in Talking Machines

The "Lyric" $30.00

To-day we present the newest musical instrument in the field—a hornless Columbia Graphophone—and at popular prices, too.

These new machines are compact, convenient, portable, ornamental—offering the most effective evidence that the exterior horn can be done away with entirely and yet without the slightest sacrifice of tone quality and with hardly any appreciable lessening of tone volume.

The cabinet is oak, well joined and finished. The motor is a typical soundless Columbia double spring. Plays 10 or 12 inch records.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By Ruth Cameron

"She was married by momentum." I wonder of how many married women that might be said.

A pathetic little letter lies on my desk. It is from a young girl who has discovered that she does not love the man she is engaged to marry in less than two months. "But what can I do?" she cries. "I have almost all my trousseau and most of my household things. My girl friends have given me showers, and we've even picked out the house and hired it, and we're beginning to talk about setting the actual date for the wedding. I've been afraid for two or three months that I didn't care enough, but that was what made me realize just how badly I did feel. Why, when we talked about actually being married on this day or that it just seemed as if everything went black. I felt as if I were being sentenced to prison. Isn't that a perfectly awful way for a bride to feel?"

"But what can I do? How can I break it off? What will people say? What will he say? Oh, Miss Cameron, sometimes when I wake up in the night and think it all over, I feel as if I were going crazy, or as if it must be all a terrible dream. But I can't possibly turn back. Can I?"

I wonder what the other women who have been in that same position and have gone on would say to "I can't possibly turn back. Can I?"

I am afraid they would laugh if they heard it—that terrible bitter melancholy laugh—like the laugh of the girl that Dick painted in "The Light that Failed"—which is the saddest sound in the world.

"You think it takes more strength than you've got to stop now," they would say. "Now how much strength do you think it's going to take to go on and live forty or fifty or sixty years with a man you don't love?"

One mistake never corrects another. The bramble bush philosophy of our nursery rhyme doesn't work in real life.

This girl has made one terrible mistake in getting engaged to a man she doesn't love. She certainly can't correct it by making the even more terrible blunder of marrying him.

Listen, my dear girl—and any others who may be in a similar position—first, don't be swayed by any passing mood of resentment or over-tried nerves in this matter. Be sure you know your mind this time. Give your feelings a reasonable test of time.

But once you are sure, don't let any considerations of what people will say or what he will say have a feather's weight with you. Think how much worse things they would probably say at the altar.

Go ahead and do what you know is right and best, and you will find

STYLE HINTS of Fall Footwear

These are days when everybody is eager for style news of the new Fall Models for Men, Women and Children. Already hundreds of Victorians have learned that "Hammond's" speak with authority in matters of shoe fashion; and many others will be glad to make—as they surely will—the discovery for themselves.

In our juvenile sections mothers will be glad to note the smart low heel models for growing girls; these models are indeed far more sensible than the military and high heel styles.

strength for all the recriminations and embarrassments and misery of broken habits that can possibly come.

Go straight ahead and if discouraged moments come hold tight to your heart the comfort that six months of misery is better than sixty years.

You feel as if you were in a terrible dream. You are. And you can awaken yourself now if you will make the effort. But marriage would convert your dream into a reality from which you could never awake.

May you have the strength to do what God means you to and find the best happiness that He has in store for you.

DRESSY FROCK FOR MISS DAINTY

For the tiny maid on dress-up occasions we show to-day a dainty frock of white China silk which is both pretty and serviceable, as with proper treatment it may be successfully laundered. The yoke is a clever lace (Irish, if expense is no object), edged with beading, through which ribbon is run. Below this is a frill of silk and the collar is also formed by a frill. Similar treatment is given the sleeves and the sash of messaline matches the ribbon on bodice and sleeves.

HOW ACCIDENT AT COLWOOD OCCURRED

Inquest on Italian Victims Reveals the Circumstances of the Explosion

The inquest into the circumstances surrounding the death of Dominico Grilli and Ollisino Salvatori, who were killed by a premature blast in one of the C. N. P. construction camps near Colwood on Monday was commenced yesterday, but owing to the failure of several Italian witnesses to appear it was not completed. It will be continued this afternoon.

Thomas Williams, time-keeper at the camp, the only witness whose evidence was taken yesterday, told how the accident occurred. Shortly before 9 o'clock on Monday morning he was standing talking with Grilli, who was charging a hole in the hard pan with the intention of blowing down the face of a cut in which six Italians, among them Salvatori, were working. Three or four kegs of black powder were used and on top of this sixty per cent. dynamite sticks placed. He, the witness, left the spot when Grilli had attached the fuse and was tamping down sand into the hole. He had not proceeded more than 200 feet when he heard a shout followed immediately by an explosion. He did not hear the customary cry of "fire."

Calling for assistance to a gang of Italians working at the other end of the cut Williams rushed back and found the face of the cut caved and the men, who had been working there, completely buried. The only sign of their existence being the hand of one protruding from the earth. The workmen, who had answered his call, became panic stricken and he found it necessary to summon the steam shovel gang, working a short distance off, to disinter the buried men. The resident engineer happened along just then and he collected all the men he could and they returned to the scene of the accident.

Nearly an hour elapsed before the forty men engaged in the work of rescue had uncovered the last of the Italians. All but Salvatori were alive. Witnesses then went in search of Grilli, the remains of whom he found about 50 feet from the explosion. Grilli had been blown over a fence and into a tree from which he had fallen to the ground. The body was badly mutilated. On the bank in which the charge had been placed was a stick of dynamite with caps in position. This had not been exploded.

Williams thought that the premature explosion had occurred owing to the fact that the hole in which the charge had been placed had not been allowed to cool properly after the "springing," for which purpose the last charge had been placed at about 7 o'clock. Under the circumstances black powder would be more dangerous than dynamite. Grilli had used a wooden tamping stick and the sand used in tamping was not fine.

The witness further stated that Grilli had held a sub-contract under Grant, Smith & Co., the contractors in charge of the railroad work. Salvatori was in the employ of Grilli. He thought that Grilli, who was in complete charge of the work on his own sub-contract, was a good construction man and competent to handle explosives.

Before the adjournment was decided on John Weston, foreman of the jury, asked that evidence be produced defining the exact relationship between the deceased and the chief contractors, so that if the jury should find that the accident was the result of carelessness the responsible parties might be brought to account.

The tenders shortly to be called for the new St. John's church on the northeast corner of Quadra and Mason streets, provide for a modern building to seat 200 and a schoolroom below to seat 400. It is proposed to make the church a complete example of English Church architecture.

H. DALLAS HELMCKEN IS TAKEN UNWELL

Trial of Bonnycastle Dale Had to Be Adjourned Owing to Ill-health of Counsel

H. Dallas Helmcken, R. C., was taken suddenly unwell in the county court this morning and had to obtain an adjournment of the trial of Bonnycastle Dale, whom he was defending.

The trial was set for 10:30 this morning, but upon the judge taking the bench there was no appearance of the prisoner. His counsel was present, and it was not until twenty minutes after the appointed hour that the prisoner was produced by the provincial police. Judge Lampman asked Harold B. Robertson, who is representing the crown, to have the matter of the delay drawn to the attention of the authorities. "It is bad enough to wait for counsel and witnesses," said the judge, "without having to wait for the prisoner."

The popularity of the patrol wagon was the cause of the delay. Some person in the vicinity of Belleville street required the wagon, and it was not back at the city police station in time to deliver the accused before Judge Lampman at 10:30. When it was discovered that the prisoner had not been brought to provincial headquarters, a carriage was sent to convey him to the court.

The accused pleaded not guilty, and Mr. Helmcken immediately asked for a remand because he had written to two at Salt Spring Island asking for information as to the character of the boy concerned in the charge who at times had worked for these people. Mr. Helmcken had received no reply and he thought that he should have an adjournment until his communications were replied to as they might contain information regarding the boy which his Honor should be made aware of.

Mr. Robertson opposed Mr. Helmcken's objection, saying that the weight of evidence as given at the preliminary hearing would not be affected even were the testimony of these witnesses directly against the boy. Three boys, he said, are concerned in the trials of the accused, and the police were bound to keep the boys under supervision to prevent the possibility of influence reaching them. On this ground alone the trial should go on, and Mr. Helmcken had eleven days in which to get in touch with the witnesses.

Judge Lampman agreed and refused Mr. Helmcken's application, when the latter rose hurriedly and remarked, "Then I will have to ask for an adjournment until this afternoon at least, as I am physically unfit to go on with the trial this morning. I am too unwell to go on with the case and will have to instruct other counsel."

"Adjourned until 2:30 this afternoon," said the judge.

For the week ending October 10th the total clearings at the Victoria clearing house amounted to $2,662,503.

The International Order of Good Templars holds its public meeting this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Emmanuel Baptist schoolroom. Grand lodge officers will deliver addresses.

The gymnasium apparatus for Beacon Hill park has arrived, and will be installed at an early date. To those who know the pleasure it has afforded at the North Ward park, the news of the extension of the movement will be welcomed.

A tender from W. J. Watson, of Seattle, for repairs to the Smith's Hill reservoir at a cost of $19,650, to make the big tank watertight, has been received by the city council, and laid over to receive a report from the water commissioner and city engineer.

The B. C. Telephone Company has undertaken to adopt the conduit system on a large number of streets which have not yet been paved, and will be asked by the civic authorities to use streets which have not received permanent paving when making extensions in the suburbs.

The third annual police ball will be held in the Alexandra Club on Thursday, November 9. The following committee has been appointed to carry out the arrangements. Honorary president, Mr. George Jay; president, Chief Langley; vice-presidents, Assistant Chief Palmer and Constable Blackstock; treasurer, Inspector Walker; secretary, Detective Handley.

The Inner Harbor Association has approved a scheme which F. M. Pretty has submitted for the consideration of the city council and the federal authorities to build a wharf 286 feet beyond the line of Montreal street, holding that a uniform line of frontage is the best for the public interest. The association recommends that the line be drawn from the northerly end of Warren's wharf parallel to Montreal street, until it cuts Laurel Point. The city council will notify the department, it has no objection if the above suggestions of the Harbor Association are followed out by Mr. Pretty.

SUNDAY SHOWS WRONG.

Hospital Loses Donation Because It Took Money From Them.

Because the London Hospital has taken money from Sunday cinematograph exhibitions, Mr. Marr, at the meeting of the City of London Guardians moved that the usual recommendation to give the annual donation of $100 to the London Hospital should be referred back to the finance committee. This was carried.

Mr. Marr said that anyone connected in any way with the Hospital Sunday Fund must be aware that the London Hospital, by reason of its injudicious action in taking money from Sunday cinema exhibitions, has done a great deal to impair the success of the Hospital Sunday Fund.

Without expressing an opinion whether these shows given on Sundays were or were not desirable, his point was that the Hospital Sunday Fund had been for years appealing to the public through ministers of religion, and that 99 per cent. of the people who contributed to the fund would disapprove of cinematograph displays on Sunday.

ROYAL CITY COUNCIL DISCUSSES BREAD WESTMINSTER MASONRY LAY A CORNER STONE

Weight and Material Are Debated by the Aldermen and Bakers

New Westminster, Oct. 10.—What is "fancy" bread? After a lengthy interval, the city council at last meeting went in to committee as a whole on the second reading of the bread by-law, 111, as drafted by Ald. Dodd, and for more than an hour wrestled with many points which even yet to some of the civic fathers are moot questions.

By invitation a number of the leading bakers of the city were present and took part in the many discussions and endeavored to assist the rulers of the Royal City as to really what is bread and what was composition of bread and what was composition of bread, sulphate of copper, chalk, carbonate of magnesia, water and other deleterious matters.

After the initial clauses had been passed as read, "fancy" bread had an innings and Ald. Henley showed his versatility by springing a surprise on his fellow-members when he gallantly explained as a connoisseur of dough. He explained just what "fancy" bread was, but Ald. Campbell, Lynch and Gray desired more light on the subject. This was forthcoming from Master Bakers Grant, Marks and Lavery, who in detail, explained that this kind of bread was that made into rolls for early morning delivery and was cooked by a "speeder" process than ordinary everyday bread.

In the opinion of Mr. Marks, Vienna and steamed breads did not come into the category of "fancy" bread. It would be initiating a hardship upon the trade, the speaker continued, if the mover of the by-law insisted upon including any and every loaf but that which was ornamental under the name of "fancy."

Matters were at a deadlock, temporarily, by Ald. Dodd refusing to give way on the point, when Ald. Campbell forced the matter a stage further by insisting that unless Ald. Dodd was to clear the path for further progress, he would ask the committee to rise and report, which was another way of shelving the matter for the present. Ald. Dodd gave way. Owing to the fact, as pointed out by members of the delegation, that the specially made pans hold sixteen ounces, Ald. Dodd conceded a further point, his original intention being to ask the council to pass this weight at twenty ounces.

A clause which was eventually ordered stricken out had reference to each baker of bread being compelled to deposit with the chief of police a statement in writing signed by him setting forth the address and location of the place wherein the bread was baked. For a time Dodd stuck to his ground until he was reminded by Mr. Lavery that bakers paid the city a license. The mover of the by-law maintained that any man could come into the city and make bread in an unsanitary cellar.

Ald. Bryson was with the previous speaker on this point, being convinced that citizens had in the past partaken of meat in sausages which were made in the most unwholesome places. After a trying period of discussions and counter motions, a vote was called for, all voting "aye" with the exception of Dodd.

Slight alterations were made in other unimportant portions of the by-law and the committee rose and reported progress and the second reading. The delegates were asked to study well the by-law and to write formally to the council pointing out what they thought would be improvements.

PROSPEROUS NELSON.

Nelson, Oct. 10.—Aggregating $20,620 the building permits for last month showed an increase over those of the same month last year which is probably a record in the history of Nelson. The total for September, 1910, was $2,425. For the year to date the total expenditures represented by the permits issued is $148,080, an increase of about $50,000 over the figures for the same period last year, which were $95,730.

The largest building enterprise undertaken during the month was the repairing of the brewery which suffered severely through the fire at the end of August. Another important new work was the construction of a warehouse by the A. G. Lambert Lumber Co.

The inland revenue returns for September, totalling $3,074.58, made up as follows: Cigars, $11.39; raw leaf tobacco, $151.29; malt, $80; spirits, $2,784.09. The total for the same month last year was $3,055.26 and last month's figures really show a considerable increase in business as owing to the fire at the beginning of September the duty paid by the brewery on malt was only $60 as compared with $358 for August.

Temple to Be Built on Agnes Street Will Be Worthy of City

New Westminster, Oct. 10.—In a downpour of rain Friday afternoon the corner stone of the new Masonic temple on Agnes street was "well and truly" laid by Most Worshipful Master F. J. Burde, of Vancouver, assisted in the ceremony by Most Worshipful Bro. H. H. Watson, M. P. P. of Vancouver, grand treasurer; Right Worshipful Bro. S. Cawley, M. P. P. of Chilliwack, grand deacon; Right Worshipful Bro. J. J. Miller, acting deputy grand master; Right Worshipful Bro. J. B. Rudd, G. S. W.; Right Worshipful Bro. J. Stark, acting grand J. W.; Most Worshipful Bro. T. J. Armstrong, chairman of the building committee; Worshipful Bro. William Astley, director of ceremonies; and a number of other prominent craftsmen of this province.

The members of Union, King Solomon and Lewis lodges of the city marched to the scene of the new temple now under construction, to witness the beautiful and impressive ceremony. With the singing of the familiar "Hail Masonry Divine," by the members of the order, and with prayer by Bro. Bishop de Pencier, the solemn by-laws were opened. Most Worshipful Past Grand Master T. J. Armstrong then called upon the grand secretary to read the list of articles to be deposited in the corner stone and upon the grand treasurer to put them in place. Among other things safely lodged in the stone were copies of the Daily News, the by-laws and constitution of the Masonic order and the coins of the realm. The fine corner stone was then lowered into place, the grand master using as mason's tools a silver trowel and a gold handled ivory gavel, gifts of the contractors, to be used for the occasion.

With a few words in eulogy of the Masonic craft in general, Grand Master Burde then formally dedicated the temple for the purpose of fostering friendships, morality and brotherly love among the fraternity in the city.

NEW AND VALUABLE DEPOSITS OF IRON

Are Located on One of the Islands Near Prince Rupert

Prince Rupert, Oct. 10.—What is said to be one of the finest iron properties yet found in the district has just been located on one of the islands within a few miles of Prince Rupert. As soon as further investigation of the property have been made, development will proceed. The claims are in the hands of Messrs. Macdonald, Hudson and Benson, who have been prospecting the district during the past few months.

Indications of iron followed up by surface investigation by expert prospectors lead to the certainty that a large lead of ore exists on the spot. From the quality of the samples submitted to test it is estimated that the iron deposit represents the finest of ore. While other rich iron discoveries have been made on the Queen Charlotte Islands, this set of claims is on one of the smaller near in islands, and development can be all the more speedily undertaken. James Sward is said to be interested in the find.

GATHERING OF THE CLANS

An enthusiastic and largely attended meeting of the sons of the heather was held in the city hall for the purpose of organizing a Scottish society in Revelstoke. After some discussion the meeting decided to form itself into a society to be called the Revelstoke Caledonian Society, membership in the Caledonian Society, membership in the Caledonian Society, membership in the Caledonian Society. Officers were elected as follows: President, W. M. Lawrence; vice-president, W. M. Gordon; secretary, treasurer, W. S. Cameron; executive committee, Messrs. Innes, Ross, Kerr and Bell; trustees, J. M. Kellie, C. B. Macdonald, J. B. McKenzie; auditors, Messrs. Ogg, Miller and Carmichael.

Meetings will be held twice a month from now until April next. The society will be strictly social in its nature, and should fill a vacancy which has long been felt by Scottish residents here. Jock Tamson's bairns are now looking forward to some enjoyable social gatherings during the winter months.

Over thirty members were enrolled, and the prospects of the society are exceedingly bright. Mr. Jamieson, who contributes to the "Scottish-American," and happened to be in the city, made a few remarks congratulatory to the members on the success of their efforts in the formation of the society.

ARBORESCENT NEWS

Absoltsford, Oct. 10.—Mr. Cotham, the provincial fruit inspector, was a visitor here, largely to inspect the upland fruit ranch and nursery here, owned by D. H. Nelson.

Mr. Cotham was greatly impressed by the great progress being made at this nursery and the cleanliness of the fruit trees. Four years ago Mr. Nelson, having sold his fruit holdings at Murray's Corner, in the Langley district, moved here. In this small period he has changed his land from an un-cleared waste, as far as profit to this locality was concerned, into one of the full fruit farms and nurseries of the province. He has also done a great good in showing how eminently fitted our upland soil, with its 80 per cent loam and sub-irrigation, is for fruit raising.

The nursery and fruit ranch is so-

COMPLETED SURVEY.

Vancouver, Oct. 10.—A. O. Wheeler, F.R.G.S., who for the last three weeks has been in charge of a party engaged in making a topographical survey of the Yellowhead pass and the surrounding region, has returned to Vancouver. The expedition was organized by the Alpine Club, and was supported by the British Columbia government and the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company. The party made a circuit of 100 miles around Mount Robson, and made complete maps of the enclosed area. They were accompanied by Konrad Kari, the Alpine Club's guide; Byron Harmon, the club photographer, who obtained some splendid views of the country; and several scientists representing the Smithsonian Institute of Washington, who were commissioned to make a study of the fauna of the region, and obtained over 800 specimens. According to Mr. Wheeler, the Alpine Club will have to abandon the idea of holding next season's camp in the neighborhood of Mount Robson owing to lack of trails and transportation facilities.

Inspector Gordon Thinks Conditions in B. C. Compare Favorably With Elsewhere.

In a preliminary report to the attorney-general, C. R. Gordon, inspector of factories in B. C., who has returned from the annual convention of factory inspectors of America, held at Lincoln, Nebraska, gives a few interesting details of his trip and not a few important points. He says: "I also attended a illustrated lecture given by Professor Sweetzer showing safety devices employed in various industrial concerns. The professor showed one safeguard which is much in use in Europe, and which might well be adopted generally in this country. It consists in painting guards and safety devices, and, wherever practicable, the moving parts of dangerous machinery, a bright red. This serves most effectively to call attention to danger. One leading matter discussed during the progress of the convention was the sanitation of factories, and several valuable suggestions were advanced as to means of overcoming the insanitary conditions from which I learn there is considerable work to be done in this province to bring conditions to a higher standard. The subject of safety devices is indeed a difficult as well as a technical one, but inasmuch as the subject has been assigned to me, I hope it will not be considered immodest on my part to state that I consider the safety devices provided for the province of British Columbia to more nearly approach the ideal safety than those employed in the various places I have visited. "On the invitation of the chief inspector of the state of Illinois I had the pleasure of visiting the works of the Illinois Steel Co., the South Chicago Pullman Car Works and the La Salle Hotel Laundry, which is considered to be the most up-to-date laundry in the state. I consider conditions in the laundries in British Columbia quite as satisfactory. I also visited the works of S. Carper & Brothers, one of the largest furniture factories, employing seven hundred and fifty men. I also visited a number of other factories, and was enabled by these various inspectors to obtain a fair knowledge of conditions existing in these works."

ALASKANS COMING OUT.

Nome, Alaska, Oct. 11.—The annual exodus to the States is now in full force. The steamer Victoria, which sailed for Seattle to-day, took out 600 passengers, making more than 1,000 who have gone south for the winter during the last two weeks.

San Francisco, Oct. 11.—Tabulation of the constitutional amendment election held in this state yesterday indicated at 1:30 o'clock this morning that the woman suffrage provision, previously conceded to have been beaten, was making a close run. Complete returns from 1,367 precincts out of 3,120 in the state, give 60,968 in favor, 63,589 against. This showed such a decided change, due principally to the back country vote, that the suffragists claimed that the amendment had carried.

The initiative and referendum and the recall, which includes the judiciary, have received a most emphatic endorsement by the voters of the state. The enlargement of the powers of the state railroad commission also has undoubtedly carried, though by a smaller majority. The vote in favor of placing in the hands of the electors the power of recalling its public officials, including the judges on the bench, was somewhat amazing, even to the friends of that proposed constitutional amendment.

San Francisco, which voted almost two to one against woman suffrage, voted more than four to one in favor of the recall, while the vote for the initiative and referendum was almost equally large.

With one-third of the state heard from, the vote stood:

For woman suffrage, 37,170; against, 44,659.

Initiative and referendum, for 50,651; against, 17,391.

Recall, for 52,997; against, 17,904.

Appointive railroad commission, for, 39,821; against, 22,334.

LINE REORGANIZED.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 11.—Plans for the reorganization of the Harriman lines in the Northwest were announced by J. D. Farrell, newly elected president of the Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation Company, while in Portland yesterday.

They include the complete segregation of the Southern Pacific and the Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation properties, the appointment of a separate set of officials for the Southern Pacific lines in Oregon and the extension of J. P. O'Brien's jurisdiction as general manager over the Seattle as well as the Portland district of the Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation Company.

Mr. O'Brien will be relieved of authority over the Southern Pacific lines in Oregon and a general manager will be appointed to that place. R. E. Miller will be relieved of authority as traffic manager over the Southern Pacific lines in Oregon, but President Farrell did not indicate who his successor will be.

$85.00 Profit in Six Months on an Investment of $15.00 Is Good Enough For Anyone

Read this offer over carefully. Be sure that it is right, then don't wait. The owners take a chance with you. They put up the coal lands and you put up the money to prove the coal, one-half of the stock for you and one-half for them. This is one of the fairest and best offers ever made to the public under iron-clad conditions. A business proposition from start to finish, there is nothing on the market like it. Leases and Crown grants to over 3,500 acres of the best coal lands on Queen Charlotte Islands are being conveyed free from all encumbrances to a company now being formed to be called the Northern Anthracite Collieries, Ltd., capital stock 1,500 shares, par value of $1.00 each; one-half of this stock for the treasury and one-half for the owners of the land. 200,000 shares of this stock have been contracted for and are being sold as follows: The first 100,000 of these shares of par value of $1.00 each, non-assessable and fully paid up, are to be sold at 15c, 5c with application, 5c in 30 days and 5c in 60 days. The proceeds from this block of stock will be used proving these coal lands with a diamond drill under special contract, and in charge of competent management. It is expected that the proceeds from this first block of stock will be sufficient to put down at least 3 or more boreholes of 1,000 feet each. This will undoubtedly cut one or two seams of splendid coal, then see your stock jump. Satisfactory tenders have been accepted and a contract let to the Diamond Drill Contracting Company of Spokane, Wash., for the boring and drilling operations will start as soon as 50,000 of the first 100,000 shares are subscribed. As an emergency, and to be absolutely on the safe side, a further block of 100,000 shares of treasury stock will be offered at 25c per share, 5c on application and 5c per month until paid, as soon as the first block has all been subscribed.

Now, use your own judgment, but consider carefully what your chances are of making $85.00 on an investment of $15 in six months, or $1,000 on an investment of $150, for as sure as the sun rises and sets this stock will go to $1.00 at least as soon as the drill cuts through the seams of splendid coal that are surely there, according to all experts' reports of the highest obtainable authority, who have reported on the Queen Charlotte Islands coal measures, as follows: T. R. Marshall, F. C. S., 1902; Dr. Geo. M. Dawson, D. S., A. R. A. R. S. M. F. G. S., 1878; H. E. Parrish, John J. Langdale, 1867; James Deans, 1872; James Parkinson, 1888; R. W. Ellis, 1906; T. B. Cory, of the State of Washington, U. S. A., and our own expert, C. F. J. Galloway, B. S. C., who is among the best authority in B. C.

These reports cover first the Wilson-Robinson coal fields, three miles north of this coal land; second, the Old Cowgate coal fields, almost adjoining on the west; third, the Alfred Bay coal fields on the south; and fourth, the company's own coal, all of which are positive evidence that this is one of the best coal fields on Queen Charlotte Islands. Situate on Graham Island, Bearskin Bay, one of the best harbors in the north, at the gateway of transportation to all points of the world, and at the very doors of Queen Charlotte city, in fact a portion of this coal underlies the townsite. No railroads to build, just load the coal from the mines to the boats. These are facts that defy contradiction, and within thirty days we expect to have the diamond drill on the ground and in operation. This is the only way anyone can tell how many millions of tons of coal there is in the property.

All applications with deposits for 50,000 of the first 100,000 shares must be made to Mr. Arnold E. Kealy before the drilling operations will start, otherwise every dollar of your money will be returned to you, and if you are too late with your application for the first block of stock at 15c your money will also be returned. All applications will be filed in order received, and only 100,000 will be sold at 15c.

How many times in your life have you had a chance like this? A square deal for once at least in a stock proposition, with almost a certainty of the stock being worth $1.00 before you have made your third payment at 15c. The drill will be shipped just as soon as your orders are in for the 50,000 of the first 100,000 shares.

There are over 100,000 people in Vancouver who know a good thing when they see it, and at least 500,000 in the province who are willing to take a chance on a square deal, and you may depend this stock will all go within a few days. Do not hesitate until too late. Send in your application to-day.

For further information call or write to the head office of the company, 506 Pacific Building, where the report of C. F. J. Galloway, B. S. C., on this coal land can be seen. His report is all that could be asked, practically saying that the coal is there beyond a doubt with sufficient evidence in sight to warrant drilling and development work at once.

PARAGRAPHS FROM MR. GALLOWAY'S REPORT

"Large areas are held as coal lands all over the eastern half of Graham Island, but as far as I can learn no drilling has yet been done to prove the measures, except two holes near Masset Inlet, the results of which have been kept secret, and may therefore be looked upon as negative.

"The fact remains, however, that thick seams of coal of a good quality have been proven in what are described as four different horizons in the series, and it is, in my opinion, well worth your while to spend some money in proving the measures, as, if any one of these coal seams prove of workable thickness and of good quality, you will have an area of very little disturbed coal, lying fairly flat, and situate most favorably for shipping purposes.

"The easiest seam to prove will be the Cowgitz, as its horizon is known. I should, therefore, recommend you to put down a borehole near the eastern end of your easternmost section. At the point marked C on the map the position of this seam should be passed through at a depth of about 500 feet, the Camp Anthracite seam being probably passed through in the same hole, if it occurs at all in this locality.

All promoters stock is to be pooled until $200,000 has been raised for the purpose of developing the mine.

In conclusion you will have the satisfaction of knowing that your money is all going into proving the coal is there, not into the promoters' pockets nor to pay for a dead horse of any kind, as the coal leases and titles are all paid for and clear of all encumbrances and will always be a valuable asset. Fill out the application form for any number of shares you want and address your application to H. J. Heal & Co., Victoria agents, 125 Pemberton block, who are the authorized agents to receive applications and receipt for same. All cheques or money orders should be made out to them. You are requested to make any enquiries not answered in this advertisement, which will receive a prompt answer. The solicitors are Burns & Walker, 415 Winch building, Vancouver.

THE DETACHABLE CUFF.

A Disquisition on the Seemliness of Masculine Adornments.

There has lately been a strange development of feeling over the rumors of a revival of detachable shirt cuffs. In an earlier era, of economical living men of parts were known to wear shirt cuffs which could be buttoned on the wristband. Men of a commoner sort were reversible cuffs, so that when one end was soiled the other end could be placed on public exhibition. Cuffs like these could be removed in working hours. The theory of detachable cuffs is that a shirt should be worn at least a week, while a pair of cuffs may not last more than two days, allowing four days, of course, for a reversible pair. Offensively fastidious persons who habitually change their linen daily never knew of the existence of detachable cuffs.

On the other hand, we learn from an eminent authority on the subject of shirt cuffs as the Troy, N. Y., Press that the detachable cuff has been worn all through the period of its supposed extinction by the leading shirt collar and cuff manufacturers of that city. Whether the laundrymen of Troy, too, have defied fate and set a bad example by wearing the detachable articles the Press does not inform us. The Press also mentions a newly invented slip-on cuff of superior deceptive qualities, which looks exactly like an attached cuff when it is in place. The early detachable cuff has a painfully detached appearance, but on that account a fair-minded man might prefer it. To wear detached cuffs may not be a sin against society. But if they are worn with intent to deceive they are morally as objectionable as a dickey, which we understand is a short bosom worn without a shirt.

We would respectfully suggest to our Troy friends that if detachable cuffs are really desirable, they, also, might be worn without a shirt. If deception is to be practiced for economy's sake, why not make the economy worth while? The cuffs might be buttoned on the inner side of the coat sleeve, or fastened to the shoulders by some sort of odd mechanical contraption similar to the combination of elastics by means of which women fasten their—but it would be useless to argue such a point, perhaps, as Troy manufactures shirts as well as cuffs. We intended to say that with the revival of the so-called "Ascot tie," which comes from the rural trade made up and of the amplitude of a chest protector, the shirt might be omitted altogether from ordinary attire. The idea is that no shirt at all is preferable to one infrequently washed.—New York Times.

NEW AID TO FIREMEN.

Inventor: Perfects Appliance for Protection From Smoke.

A remarkable device for supplying air to firemen in smoke-filled rooms, the invention of James Halloran, a New York fireman, emerged successfully from its first test, when used by the brigade in fighting a fire in the cellar of a tenement house against the volumes of smoke. The invention is characterized by the greatest simplicity. A common garden hose is used, one end hanging free in the outside air, the other end being attached to a small box on the nozzle of the fireman's water hose. Three rubber tubes lead from the box, with hose-pieces attached, and each is fixed over the faces of the firemen. The bottom of the box on the nozzle is perforated, and the force of the water rushing through the nozzle draws air by suction through the garden hose and feeds it to the three firemen holding the nozzle.

The firemen, after the test, lasting half an hour, are enthusiastic, and declare that it will replace the cumbersome oxygen-supplying headgear for protection in smoke areas, which prevents the firemen "sensing" the blaze. The commissioner has ordered further tests prior to adopting the device for all the New York corps. If the later tests are as successful as to-day's the invention will revolutionize firemen's methods of the work in smoke areas and will simplify their task to a minimum.

BRAWLING IN CHURCH.

Sisters Who Too Loudly Sang in the Responses.

At Chertsey recently, Sir Charles Walpole and other magistrates heard summonses against two dressmakers, Maude and Fanny Burke, for brawling in the Roman Catholic church at Weybridge.

T. E. H. Chaldecott, who appeared in support of the summons, said the defendants were poor women who had received many benefits at the hands of the priest and congregation. For a period of two years the defendants at the evening services, when the Litany was being sung, had shouted the responses at the top of their voices, behind and before the choir, like demented beings. Many people in consequence refused to attend the latter part of the evening service.

"There is no vindictiveness in the prosecution," said Mr. Chaldecott, "and we are not asking for punishment; all we want is to conduct our services in peace."

Clifford Woollett, an official of the church, said that on Sunday evening the defendants' voices gradually rose higher and higher until they reached an hysterical shriek. Maude Burke continually, by whispering and pointing at the choir, incited her sister to increase the volume of sound. Last October Maude Burke put her fist up to his face when he asked her kindly not to sing so loudly, and called him a cad. One Sunday he asked her if she would sing in time, and she became abusive.

Canon Scannell, the priest in charge of the church, said that owing to the defendants' conduct he once had to omit a portion of the service. He had remonstrated with them 40 or 50 times. The defendant Maude said they sang according to what they were taught in their own country.

The Chairman—Then go there and sing.

The defendants were bound over to be of good behaviour.

MODERN SOLOMON PROBLEM.

A curious problem in natural history has just been set Judge Moss at Bangor county court. Two North Wales farmers both owned a number of mountain ponies, including two which had foaled about the same time. One foal was found dead, and the judge was asked to decide whether the surviving foal belonged to Farmer Pritchard, or to his neighbor, Farmer Roberts.

Pritchard, who claimed the animal, said he suggested to Roberts that the surviving foal should remain with the two mares for some months, by which time it would be able to recognize its true mother. If at the end of the year the problem was not solved, the foal should be sold, and the money divided between them.

Mr. Thornton (for the defence): A case of Solomon and the baby.

Mr. Dew (for plaintiff): And my client is like the mother who wanted the child divided.

Pritchard added that Roberts declined to agree to the offer, and another suggestion that two independent farmers should be called in to decide the ownership was also disregarded. Eventually Roberts removed his mare and the foal to a farm in the valley. Thereupon he (Pritchard) took down his animal and when the foal came out to the gate, while the other mare did not budge.

Roberts, on the other hand, declared that when the dead foal was found Pritchard's mare went up to it and licked it, while witness's animal took no notice of it.

The judge found for Pritchard, who was awarded $20.

AN UNPARALLELED FEAT.

Accomplished by Diver After Six Years of Nerve-Racking Effort.

What is, without doubt, an undertaking unparalleled in the history of diving, has been practically completed in England. The task has taken six long years of groping and tolling beneath the walls of Winchester Cathedral. That ancient structure had for some years shown unmistakable signs of sinking foundations. Its foundations were laid in the thirteenth century. There are visible signs to-day that the original work was interrupted by an inflow of water.

The walls began to crack and lean out of the perpendicular. After many consultations and inspections by engineers and architects it was decided that the only way to save the cathedral from collapsing was to employ a diver. Pumping was out of the question, as the soil or sand would be sucked up from other parts of the foundation and then the whole structure would have come tumbling down. The problem the architects had to face was how to remove the peat and substitute concrete without using the pump.

Diving apparatus was installed and a man named Walker, a diver of great experience in deep-sea work, went down into the dark cavernous holes and began a task that was expected to take about a year to complete. He had to work in absolute darkness and to feel his way about in the water, the physical difficulties preventing the use of artificial light. Bit by bit he excavated the peat at the foundation and jute bags containing concrete were then lowered to him. As each bag was placed in position he slit it open with a knife and spread the cement over the surface. The whole restoration scheme has cost over $500,000.

THE HOLY PERFUME.

Weird Religious Hoax Practised in India.

One of the most extraordinary religious hoaxes ever recorded: even in India has just occurred in the northern part of Calcutta.

A pool of stagnant water formed from the accumulation of sewage from roadside drains suddenly began, according to the local inhabitants, to emit a sweet perfume which had a lovely lemon flavor. Many people came, smelt, and were convinced, and the rumor spread that the pool was holy and that a new goddess would rise from its waters to redeem the world.

The pool became a place of pilgrimage. Diseased people bathed in it and drank of it, and those of unvarying conscience washed away their sins in it. The water was carried away in jugs, phials, and bottles, and a brisk trade sprang up under the aegis of an astute young Bengalee in selling the "holy water" in all parts of the city at as much as 6s. a phial.

News of the holy perfume came to the ears of Messrs. Bosc & Company, scent manufacturers, who took a professional interest in the matter and sent a commissioner to investigate. His report immediately provided him with a clue to the mysterious disappearance of several cases of essential oils belonging

A Valuable Aid in Fighting Tuberculosis

The modern weapons against the "White Plague" are fresh air and nourishing food. For years Cod Liver Oil has been recognized as probably the best form of nourishment.

The difficulty has been with its nauseating taste and its tendency to upset the digestion. In the nasty taste and the indigestibility have been done away with entirely. The Compound is very agreeable both to the palate and the stomach. At the same time it retains the nutritive and curative properties of the pure Norwegian Oil, strengthened by the addition, in just the right proportions, of Extract of Malt, Wild Cherry, and Hypophosphites of Lime, Soda, Potassium, Manganese and Iron.

When a cold or cough "hangs on", particularly with a child or growing boy or girl, don't take chances. Start right in with a bottle of NA-DRU-CO Tasteless Cod Liver Oil Compound—it will quickly build up the strength to throw off the cough or cold.

Ask your druggist about NA-DRU-CO Tasteless Cod Liver Oil Compound. He has it—or can get it—in 50c. and $1.00 bottles. 103

ROMANCE OF A ROSARY.

Celebration of Jubilee of Cardinal
Gibbons Reveals a Secret.

The New York Sun prints the following story from St. Johns, Nfld. On the occasion of the celebration of the golden Jubilee of Cardinal Gibbons' ordination of the priesthood the Knights of Columbus desired to present him some souvenir appropriate to the occasion.
It was not an easy matter to select a gift that would be both suitable and characteristic. The Knights considered various suggestions, such as service of gold plate, but it was felt that the Cardinal, while he would be grateful for the thought, might not approve of a gift of that kind.

The problem was solved by accident in St. Johns, and the solution contains a spice of romance that makes it doubly interesting.

In the Presentation Convent in St.
Johns, there lives a nun, Sister Clare, who cherished a very ambitious project. The order is a cloistered one, so that the sisters, who devote all their lives to the task of teaching the children of fishermen their elementary lessons, see very few people, except their pupils and relatives. Sister Clare conceived the idea of founding a working girls' home where girls would be cared for and protected.

With this end in view she began collecting bricks for her home. All her pupils brought each week a few cents to purchase bricks. Then an occasional visitor to the convent contributed the price of a brick and so the fund was started.

In the meantime an ambitious young Newfoundlander was plunging away in the far off Klondike. He was fortunate enough to strike it rich, and when he had his little pile accumulated he returned to visit his old home. Here he met and became engaged to a young woman, a graduate of the convent, who had been an especially enthusiastic helper of Sister Clare in her project.
The first visit the affianced couple paid
was to the Presentation Convent.

Then things began to happen. The Klondiker chipped in a whole cartload of bricks. Shortly afterwards the wedding took place and the pilgrim from the far north again visited the sister.
On this occasion the bridegroom gave the sister an interest in a claim in the Klondike, the value of which is at present problematical, and a set of Rosary beads composed of nuggets of virgin gold.

Sister Clare immediately set to work to transmute the gold into ordinary bricks, thus reversing the time honored process. She had offers from several to buy the rosary. Some wanted to present it to the Queen of Spain, others to Queen Mary of England and still others to the Papal Delegate, who later visited the island. All the offers she rejected.

Then John H. Reddin, of Denver,
Col., master of the fourth degree
Knights of Columbus, took a vacation trip to Newfoundland. In the course of his wanderings he found himself at the Presentation Convent listening to the story of the working girls' home and the golden rosary. A brilliant idea struck him. Here was the ideal gift, the golden fleece, which the knight had been seeking to present to the Cardinal.

The sister thought that if Mr. Reddin would dispose of it for $100 the foundation stone of the home would forthwith be laid and her castle in Spain would become a concrete fact.
He guaranteed her at least $100 and took the rosary in his charge.

The knights held a convention in Denver a few weeks ago, Mr. Reddin was there in his official capacity, and the American papers reported the proceedings, but there was no mention of what he had done with the rosary. But the secret leaked out last week, when J. J. Flaherty, Supreme Knight of the Order of the Knights of Columbus, in the course of his summer vacation visited Newfoundland. The first visit he paid to St. Johns was to the convent, and when he produced a check for $1,000 the price the knights had paid for the rosary, Sister Clare nearly collapsed, and could only acknowledge it with tears of gratitude.

The touch of pathos wanting to complete the romance is unconsciously supplied by Sister Clare. For many years she has been the victim of a disease that is slowly sapping her life away. She cannot sleep or eat. Her constant prayer is that she will be spared to see the good work at least began before she is called away. The disposition of the golden rosary has given her the means to gratify that wish.

LISZT AND MODERN MUSIC

But he introduced into the musty
academic atmosphere of musical Europe a strong fresh breeze from the Hungarian prairie; this wandering player of Hungarian-Austrian blood, a genuine cosmopolitan, taught music a new charm, the charm of the unexpected, of the improvised. The freedom of Beethoven in his later works and of Chopin in all his music, became the principal factor in the style of Liszt. Music must have the shape of an improvisation. In the Hungarian rhapsodies, the majority of which begin in a mosque and always end in a tavern, are the extremes of his system. His orchestral and vocal works, the two symphonies,
the masses and oratorios and symphonic poems, are full of dignity, poetic feeling, religious spirit, and a largeness of accent and manner. Yet the gypsy glance and gypsy voice lurk behind many a pious or pompous bar.
Apart from his invention of a new form—or, rather the condensation and revelation of an old one—the symphonic poem—Liszt's greatest contribution to art is the wild, truant, rhapsodic extempore element he infused into modern music; nature in her most reckless untrammeled moods he interpreted with fidelity. But the drummers in the line of moral gasoline who controlled criticism in Germany refused to see Liszt except as an ex-piano virtuoso with the morals of a fly and a pervert of art. Even the piquant triangle in his piano concerto was suspected as possibly suggesting the usual situation of French comedy.

The Liszt-Wagner question no longer presents any difficulties to the fair-minded. It is a simple one, for men still living know that Wagner, to reach his musical apogee, to reach his public; had to lean heavily on the musical genius and individual inspir-

CURED OF DRINK BY SIMPLE REMEDY

A Devoted Wife Helps Her Husband to a Cure Through Samaria Prescription

Mrs. S., of Trenton, was in despair.
A loving father and a careful provider
when sober—her husband had gradually fallen into drinking habits, which were ruining his home, health and happiness. Drink had inflamed his stomach and nerves and created that unnatural craving that kills conscience,
love, honor and breaks all family ties.

But read her letter:
"I feel it my duty to say a few words about your Tablets. As you are aware, I sent and got a bottle, thinking I would try them in secret. My husband had only taken them a week when he told me he was going to Port Arthur for the summer, so I had to tell him all about the Tablets. He said he would take them just the same, so I sent and got the second bottle for fear one would not be enough. He writes me saying that he has taken the contents of both bottles, and he feels splendid, does not care for drink. In fact, he has not taken any liquor from the first of my giving it to him. I feel I cannot say too much in favor of your wonderful remedy."

"Mrs. S., Trenton, Ont."
Samaria Prescription stops the craving for drink. It restores the shaking nerves, improves the appetite and gen-

SINGLE TAX SYSTEM WILL BE EXPLAINED

Warm Welcome From Local Advocates for Henry George, Junior—Institute Hall

The local Henry George Association extended a warm welcome to Henry George, junior, on his arrival this afternoon to deliver an address this evening on the single tax system. Henry George, who is a member of the U. S. House of Representatives from New York State, has just completed a trip through the western provinces of Canada, and has spoken at a number of points on the principles of taxation advocated by his distinguished father. He is a clear and attractive speaker, and the Institute Hall should be well filled when Premier McBride takes the chair. A number of prominent men have accepted seats on the platform, and the lecturer is assured of a hearty reception, particularly at a time when the whole system of provincial taxation is undergoing review by a commission.

In Vancouver Mr. George was entertained to luncheon by Mayor L. D. Taylor, who is himself an earnest advocate of the single tax form of taxation, the partial application of which has assisted in making Vancouver one of the most prosperous cities in the Dominion.

The premier will take the chair at 8:15 to-night.

MRS. JANE GRIBBLE Resident in Victoria for 47 Years. Whose Funeral Took Place Yesterday Afternoon.

TIMBERMEN TO ASK DUTY ON U. S. LUMBER PRODUCT

Calgary, Oct. 11.—Far-reaching changes for the western States and Canada were decided on at a conference here yesterday by the members of the Coast Mountain Lumbermen's Association. It was said that the members agreed to close many mills, on both sides of the line, some to remain closed until 1913.

The Canadian trade for the past year has been annoyed by the encroachment of the American mills.

It was decided at a meeting on Saturday to meet all cuts by American lumbermen. In the meantime an effort will be made to have the government put a duty on American lumber to give protection in rough lines.

FORTY MILES MORE OF THE ISLAND RAILWAY

Vancouver, Oct. 11.—The Canadian Northern railway will shortly call for tenders for the construction of 40 additional miles of the Vancouver Island line, 60 miles of which is now being built northward from Victoria.

The section to be awarded will extend from Mile 69 to Mile 109, at the north-west corner of Cowichan Lake, near the summit. It will include some heavy work. Part of this section will follow the Cowichan river some distance. The line has already been located to Alberni, a point 53 miles from the Cowichan summit. It will traverse numerous timber limits.

Moore & Petrick, of Victoria, have completed their contract for clearing 800 acres of Port Mann townsite, which will be placed on the market early in December. The night skies are illuminated by the flare of burning heaps of logs and stumps.

London, Oct. 11.—The Pall Mall Gazette says: "The accession of W. T. White to the cabinet is a particularly good omen, since it has been the aloofness of really first-rate business men that has prevented Canadian politics reaching a higher level."

The Globe describes the cabinet as a workmanlike collection of men, adding: "By the inclusion of Nationalists everyone may know how much their influence counts for. Our own Nationalists control the cabinet's action like ventriloquists control their puppets. The Canadian compact is open and above board."

London Liberal Opinion.

London, Oct. 11.—The Westminster Gazette says: "We were assured by enthusiastic so-called Imperialists on this side that Mr. Borden had won independently of the Nationalists. Mr. Borden knows, or at any rate acts, otherwise. In England the Irish Nationalists are treated as outsiders. In Canada a great victory is celebrated by giving anti-Imperialists seats in a Conservative cabinet. All this is very interesting and should warn our tariff reformers that they had better watch warily in exploiting Mr. Borden's victory as a Tory and tariff reform asset."

White As Seen At Home.

Toronto, Oct. 11.—Of the Hon. W. T. White, Canada's new finance minister, the World says: "He is young and free and so to believe in the people as the biggest asset in political life. If he plays the people's game he will be the biggest Canadian of his generation."

The Globe says: "Stern and unyielding at times, Mr. White has a soft side. What has influenced him in accepting a ministerial position he will not tell, but those who know him say he will bring to his new duties a sense of responsibility that will spell ruin for selfish-seeking interests at the Canadian parliament."

Winnipeg Editorial Views.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 11.—The Winnipeg Tribune says: "The ethical character of the political rule in Canada is largely dependent upon Premier Borden, for the people did not vote for particular men for cabinet honors, but entrusted Mr. Borden with the great task. It will thus soon be demonstrated whether Mr. Borden's motives are of the highest character or whether the election was a mere scramble for the spoils of office. It seems to be a matter of course that Mr. Borden even at this juncture and point out a display of weakness in some of his selections for cabinet honors, but give Mr. Borden a chance and impress him with the belief that the people expect to get a square, honest deal."

The Manitoba Free Press says: "At present any estimate of the capacity of the new government is largely guess work. One way or the other it is influenced by party feeling. The Borden government as it took final form differed widely from the states first made up by political guessers. In the earlier calculations it was said that because he was one of Mr. Borden's intimate friends, not a single one of these favorites made the cabinet. No doubt as the cabinet meeting conferences proceed it will become increasingly clear that the determining factors must be political necessities and not personal feelings. The Borden government, like all governments, is the result of the free play of political forces."

A Prairie Opinion.

Calgary, Oct. 11.—The Calgary Herald says: "The Borden cabinet as announced last night gives Canada a promise of honest and progressive government. Mr. Borden has succeeded in gathering around him a set of men who will represent the different sections of Canada and who may be depended on to uphold the pledge and policies of which Canada's new premier is the exponent. Western Canada has particular reason to be gratified by the distribution of portfolios. Especially it is pleasing that the department of agriculture is to be presided over by a western man, the progress of which the centre of agricultural progress and those in which the prosperity of the Dominion in that respect is most intimately concerned. For the first time in the history of Canada four cabinet ministers have been given to the four western provinces."

ST. ANDREW'S AND "CALLIES"

A largely attended meeting of St. Andrew's and Callies Society was held in Foresters' hall last night, when many matters relative to the work of the society were discussed. The meeting was called for the purpose of arranging the programme for the winter season and was most enthusiastic throughout. President T. Withers occupied the chair.

It was resolved that hereafter the society meet on the second and fourth Tuesdays in each month in Foresters' hall, and a committee was appointed to arrange for a series of lectures, debates and entertainments.

Dances will be held on the last Thursday in each month, the first to take place on Thursday, October 26th, in Foresters' large hall, Broad street.

Probably the most interesting event of the season will be the society's annual dinner, to be held on November 30th, "St. Andrew's night." A committee is already at work upon this, which promises to be the best function of its kind ever held in Victoria.

The secretary was instructed to write a message of condolence to the relatives of the late George Smith, whose work on behalf of the society and everything pertaining to its welfare will not readily be forgotten.

FLEET RECALLED.

Lisbon, Oct. 11.—(Via Frontier.)—The government has recalled in an urgent command all warships that have been operating on the north coast and the whole fleet is now anchored in the Tagus with steam up night and day, ready to sail.

The sailors who had landed to take part in the northern operations against the Royalists have rejoined the crews, which have also been reinforced.

ORIENTAL STEAMSHIP ARRIVES AT SUNSET

Inaba Maru at Outer Dock This Evening—Wireless From Empress of Japan

Bound from Yokohama, Hongkong and other Oriental ports, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Inaba Maru will complete her long journey at 6 o'clock this evening. Wireless reports received from the steamship early this morning stated that she would reach William Head at that hour. After obtaining her pratique she will come up to the outer docks, and when she has cleared her holds of the local cargo will proceed to Seattle to discharge her valuable silk shipment consigned to New York.

It will be daylight to-morrow morning before the steamship clears from this port, as she has a large amount of freight to put off here. Four hundred and ninety-nine tons are consigned to Victoria, including much rice, sugar, soy, and general merchandise.

She has 114 passengers, for here, of whom 82 are Chinese and the remainder are Japanese and sailors. The steamer will be at the outer docks about 7 o'clock this evening, and stevedores will immediately commence to discharge her cargo. Her silk shipment is valued at half a million dollars.

Early this morning the operator at Esplanade picked up the position of the R. M. S. Empress of Japan, Capt. Robison, which is en route to this port from the Far East. At 6 o'clock the vessel was spoken and she gave her position as being lat. 50.29 north and long. 155.18 west at midnight. This position figures out to be 1,150 miles from Esplanade, so the white liner will not reach this port until late Saturday morning.

It is expected that the Empress will bring word as to whether her sister ship, the Empress of China, has been abandoned by the salvors. According to recent advices here from Lloyds the vessel has been given up as a total loss, but no confirmation of this had yet been brought by any of the Oriental steamships.

The Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Mexico Maru is due here next Wednesday, having left Yokohama on Tuesday last. She is bringing 600 tons of general freight to Victoria and also 32 steerage passengers.

The Canadian-Australian liner Zealandia, Capt. Phillips, will arrive in port on Tuesday afternoon next from the Antipodes. She is reported leaving Honolulu yesterday with a big passenger list and a cargo of 1,500 tons.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL

DEPLORES CRUELTY

Will Probe and Try to Abolish Practice of Circulating Objectionable Printed Matter

The local Council of Women held a regular meeting Monday afternoon in the women's parlour of the new Y. M. C. A. building. All officers and delegates of affiliated societies were present. Miss Crease presided, and after the reading of the minutes Mrs. Gavin Burns read the following two letters:

"Abbotswick, Southampton, Sept. 11. 'My Dear Miss Crease—When I wrote to you the other day perhaps I ought to have formally resigned the office of one of the vice-presidents of the local Council of Women, to which post you were all good enough to elect me since we have been in England."

"My interest in the work of L. C. W. grew year by year as I began to grasp more fully the immense power for good wielded by such a splendid body of women workers, and it is with sincere regret that I can no longer remain one of the members."

"With affectionate remembrances to all with whom I was associated in the work, believe me always yours, very sincerely,

"ISOLINE H. PERRIN."

"Abbotswick, Southampton, June 6, 1911. 'My Dear Mrs. Burns—When you have an opportunity I hope that you will express to the local Council of women our deep appreciation of the kind message from the annual meeting. I need not assure you how keen an interest we feel in the work of the council."

"So far I have not had the pleasure of meeting Lady Aberdeen, but I hope to do so before long. Wishing every success to the council and its new officers, yours sincerely,

"W. W. COLMAN."

Deep regret at losing those who had shown themselves worthy friends of council work was expressed by all present.

The local body will receive a petition endorsed by the National Council, asking for the abolition of the practice of circulating objectionable printed matter. Miss Crease spoke earnestly on the gravity of the matter and asked for the co-operation of all.

On motion of Mrs. Willscroft, seconded by Mrs. Gordon, the secretary was asked to write invitations to several new women's organizations asking that they affiliate with the council to increase its influence and bring themselves into sympathy with other women workers of Victoria.

IMPROVING HIGHWAYS.

Victoria Automobile Club will co-operate in work of improving Two Mainland Roads.

It was decided at a meeting of the Automobile Club held last evening to accede to the request of the New Westminster Club and do everything possible toward the improvement of two mainland highways, the first traversing the Hope mountains to Penticton and the second ranging from the coast up the Fraser valley.

The meeting also discussed the recent accident on Oak Bay avenue where a boy was knocked down and injured, and came to the conclusion that the motorist was not to blame for the occurrence. Blocking of the streets by C. M. R. Co. teams was also brought up, and it was decided to have the matter referred to the proper authorities.

The annual subscription to the club was raised to $2.

TELEGRAPH MANAGER

ON INSPECTION TRIP

Advantage of Train Despatching by Telephone Over Old Method of Telegraphing

The visit of James Kent, manager of C. P. R. Telegraphs, of Montreal, and B. S. Jenkins, superintendent at Winnipeg, on their customary tour of inspection, was a brief one to Victoria on this occasion, as they did not arrive till evening yesterday, and returned to Vancouver on the night boat.

In an interview Mr. Kent said: "The C. P. R. has over 4,000 miles of wire over which freight and passenger trains are dispatched by telephone. This method, with a few unimportant gaps, is now in vogue from the Atlantic coast to Kamloops, where, within a few months it will be extended through to the coast."

"Experience has shown that the use of the telephone in the handling of dispatchers' telegraph wires, 80 per cent. of which were of copper, and owing to the demand for increased facilities due to the sixteen-cent increase in rates, through-out Canada, at least much additional mileage will be added to the service during the coming year. A through wire between Vancouver and Montreal is in constant operation between Vancouver and Montreal and no less than four direct wires are required for purely commercial business between the coast and Winnipeg. This is exclusive of the wires used for railway purposes. Another through wire is also virtually monopolized in the transmission of cable business between Great Britain and Australia. Our company is erecting a sixteen-story office building in Toronto. The top story will be occupied by our telegraph department."

Mr. Kent is a veteran in the service, having risen from the ranks, owing to his administrative capacity. As a sender and receiver he had no superior in his long days. For many years he spent the parliamentary sessions in Ottawa in handling the press dispatches. On one memorable budget night his staff transmitted over one million words, constituting a new record in the annals of Canadian journalism. Mr. Kent succeeded Mr. C. R. Hosmer in the management of the telegraph department. He has a charming personality and is one of the most popular officials in the service of the company.

PASSING SHOW

Empress Theatre.

With a star singing act and a stretch that is full of well acted fun, it is no wonder that the bill at the Empress this week is popular and that the seating capacity is taxed. The singing girls Elsie Wales and Mabelle Meredith fill the bill to the last desire and the orchestra at the Empress plays in sympathy with the singers whose voices are not drowned, and the public gains the greater pleasure thereby. Irene Hobson and Charles Deland presented one of the funniest farces of the year and there have been many good ones from January to October. "A Business Proposal" is full of mistakes, and wrong persons and before it reaches the usual ending much fun is occasioned by the process of elucidation. Quinn Brothers and Miss Rosner are responsible for an enjoyable dance and song act; the Bailey trio of acrobats are turning and tumbling through barrels, and Will Lochrane is a ten minute laugh with which the show opens.

"In Old Kentucky" To-night.

That prime favorite with playgoers, "In Old Kentucky," with its stirring and entertaining story, its splendid cast, its clever little pickaninies, its sumptuous scenery and its stirring, its thoroughbred Kentucky horses, will be the attraction at the Victoria theatre, to-night.

"In Old Kentucky" refuses to loosen its grasp on the affections of theatre-goers of the present day. With a marvelous record of success, the play is still in the zenith of its career. It yields to no other offering, new or old, in popularity or drawing power. There is something about the vivid picture of life in the blue-grass state revealed in the story of "In Old Kentucky" that makes a strong and lasting appeal. It tells a charming love story, it has natural and sparkling comedy scenes, it has situations that are not ridiculous and improbable, and the brave little mountain heroine, Madge Briery, does nothing that any little mountain girl in the same situation would not do. Her daring impersonation of a jockey to save her sweetheart's fortune is not an impossible episode, and her ride to victory never fails to arouse all manner of enthusiasm on the part of the audience.

The characters in the play are skillfully sketched, the dialogue possesses more than average literary merit, and, in fact, the play is the ideal drama of American life. A clever band of comical little darkeys contribute largely to the hilarity of the piece, their scene being a most entertaining and realistic picture of this stirring play. The realism of the race scene cannot be denied and is cleverly shown. The scenery is always elaborate and praiseworthy, and the company, with clever Mildred Johnson as the heroine, her third season with "In Old Kentucky," will be a capital one, and up to the high standard always maintained by Litt & Dingwall for this popular drama.

"The Girl in the Taxi"

No play of recent years has stirred up so much enthusiasm or broken so many records for large attendance and phenomenal box-office receipts as "The Girl in the Taxi," which is scheduled for one night at the Victoria theatre, Thursday, October 12. "The Girl in the Taxi" was originally produced in Paris and achieved the greatest triumph of any play of its kind brought out in the French metropolis in recent years. In its Americanized form it captivated the theatre-going public of New York, Chicago and Boston, running two seasons in these three cities.

BOY SCOUTS' RACE.

Splendid Relay Race From Oak Bay Hotel Results in Win for Fourth Troop.

The relay race for the Robinson and Andrews challenge cup was run on Saturday afternoon and excited no small amount of interest. All the competitors met at the Oak Bay hotel at 2.30, and after hearing the instructions took the car citywards, dropping off at their various posts. A telephone message from the city told the starter that all were ready and the seven runners went off together at 3.12. The favorites at the start were the University school team, but they lost ground badly the first mile, and although they gained most of the way after they never made up the lost ground, and the result was an easy win by about 100 yards for the Fourth Troop.

The winning team, who have M. Frampton as their scoutmaster, consisted of H. Carter, H. Laundry, J. Hedley, T. Heyland, J. Waddington, F. Shandley, C. Laundry and V. Carter. The second team to arrive was the First and the University school, No. 15 was third. The others followed in this order, 15, 3, 11 and 8.

After the race outside the Union Club C. H. Collinson, chairman of the sports committee, congratulated the winning troop on their splendid race and asked them to present the cup to the Fourth Troop. Hearty cheers by winners and losers ended a most successful race in which 56 boys had taken part. The actual time taken by the winning team from the Oak Bay hotel to the Union Club was 13 minutes 50 seconds.

The officials were as follows: Starter and clerk of the course, C. H. Collinson; judges, Col. W. H. Cunliffe (late commissioner for Alberta), Colonel Hall (commissioner for British Columbia) and Mr. Andrews (donor of the cup).

On Saturday, 21st, the boys shoot for the Oscar Bass challenge cup.

GROWS FIVE INCHES OF NEW HAIR IN THIRTY DAYS

Both men and women, inclined to baldness or dandruff, will be interested in the following simple home formula for hair and scalp treatment, strongly recommended by a reader who states that from its use, in thirty days, she grew new hair five inches long.

Bay Rum 6 oz.

Lavender de Composee 2 oz.

Menthol Crystals 1/2 dr.

These ingredients are all staple, standard and inexpensive pharmaceutical products kept by any well equipped druggist. Let the druggist mix them for you or you can do it yourself at home. Allow to stand half an hour before using. Apply night and morning, rubbing briskly into the scalp with the finger tips or a medium stiff brush.

This preparation is not only a wonderfully rapid hair grower, but it quickly stops dandruff, falling hair and itching scalp and although it is neither a stain or dye, will restore natural color to gray, streaked or faded hair in nine cases out of ten.

Be careful not to apply where hair is not desired.
